BEAU WELLING of the United States is the new president of the World Curling Federation.

Welling was elected at the 11th Annual General Assembly in Lausanne, Switzerland, and replaces president Kate Caithness CBE at the conclusion of her 12-year term of office.

Welling is the 11th president of the World Curling Federation (previously the International Curling Federation) and is the second president from the U.S., following Dr. Donald F. Barcome from 1988–1990.

Welling was elected as a board member of the World Curling Federation in 2018, with his original four-year term concluding this year.

Welling was the chair of the Structural Review Group and prior to his time with the World Curling Federation was an Independent board director of the United States Curling Association from 2007 until 2018.

Welling came into the sport of curling in a rather unconventional way. He first saw the sport on television and was immediately drawn in. He got involved locally in curling and gradually worked his way up the ladder in the U.S.

“I was fascinated watching the sport on television and was able to learn a lot quickly from one of my colleagues who grew up in Northern Ontario,” recalled Welling. “Curling is a strategic game that fits my brain. I have a degree in physics so that aspect of the sport was interesting to me, as well as the fact that golf and curling are of the same ether.”

Welling is anxious to roll his sleeves up and get to work at his new position.

“I feel an incredible sense of responsibility and at the same time an incredible sense of excitement about the future of curling,” he said.

“I look forward to working with our members to advance the sport of curling to higher levels and to continue the great work that Kate Caithness has done. I want to honour her legacy by continuing to drive the sport forward.”

Welling is the Founder and President of Beau Welling Design, a golf course design and development company based in Greenville, S.C.

THE WORLD CURLING FEDERATION

The World Curling Federation is the recognized governing body of curling in the world.

The WCF’s first formal constitution was approved in 1967 under the original charter of the International Curling Federation in Perth, Scotland. The constitution was significantly adjusted in 1982, when the federation was declared independent from Scotland’s Royal Caledonian Curling Club, to which its original constitution had been tied. In 1990, the official name was changed to World Curling Federation. Further significant changes were made in 1994.

The WCF has a four-part mandate:

- To represent curling internationally and to facilitate the growth of the sport through a network of member associations
- To formulate rules of the sport of curling for world competition and all other competitions approved by the WCF and to further the interests of world curling
- To conduct world curling competitions
- To provide co-operation and mutual understanding among member associations and to unite curlers throughout the world

CURLING CANADA 2022-23 BOARD OF GOVERNORS

MIKE SZAJEWSKI
Chair

Four new members have been elected to the Curling Canada Board of Governors during the organization's Annual General Meeting.

The governing body for the sport of curling in Canada conducted its virtual AGM to bring together Canada's 14 Member Associations along with invited guests to talk about the past season, as well as elect new members to the Board of Governors.

There were four available spots on the Board after outgoing Chair Amy Nixon of Calgary, Paul Addison of Victoria and Donna Krotz of London, Ont., completed their four-year terms, and after the departure of Chana Martineau of Edmonton this past season; Martineau had one year remaining on her term.

Elected to the Board for four-year terms were Ray Baker of Dauphin, Man., Scott Hindle of Ottawa, Jennifer Howard of Courtice, Ont., and Teri Palynchuk of Nanaimo, B.C.

They join fellow Governors Roselle Gonsalves of Edmonton, Kathy O'Rourke of Cumberland, P.E.I., Darren Oryniak of Winnipeg, Calvin Seaman of Calgary, and Michael Szajewski of Kenora, Ont.

Szajewski was elected as Chair of the Board of Governors.

"Our sport and our organization is well-positioned to take significant strides, both on and off the ice, and I'm excited to work with my fellow Governors, as well as our Member Associations in pursuit of common goals," said Szajewski. "I'm truly grateful for this opportunity, and I'm ready to get to work with my colleagues on the Board."

"The past 12 months have provided us with so many opportunities for growth as we continue to learn about what the words 'meaningful change' truly mean," added Katherine Henderson, Chief Executive Officer of Curling Canada. "Those changes can apply to all facets of our sport across Canada, and we will continue to strive to make those changes that will benefit our sport, our Member Associations and Curling Canada for years to come."

CURLING CANADA ADMINISTRATION

KATHERINE HENDERSON
Chief executive officer

Katherine Henderson, Curling Canada's chief executive officer, has a wealth of experience in leadership roles in sports, marketing and brand management that spans more than 25 years.

Henderson assumed the role of CEO in April 2016 and has since led the organization into an era of curling growth and sound business practices, coupled with consistent world-best results on the ice from Canada's national curling teams.

Henderson joined Curling Canada after her role as senior vice-president of marketing and revenue for the Toronto 2015 PanAm/Parapan American Games organizing committee, with which she played a significant role in putting together the most successful non-Olympic sponsorship program in Canadian history, with a who's who of Canada's corporate community. She also oversaw the negotiation of broadcast rights for the games and under her watch the PanAm/Parapan games broke records for attendance, ticket sales and television ratings.

Before that, she spent seven years with the Whirlpool Corporation, filling prominent leadership roles in marketing and general management for the Canadian and North American divisions. She has also worked in marketing/branding roles with other high-profile companies, including Colgate Palmolive Canada, Campbell Soup Canada and General Mills Canada.

"Curling Canada is in the midst of an era of unprecedented financial stability, thanks to the success of our championship events as well as the sound management practices we have put in place within our organization," said Henderson. "At the high-performance level, our athletes continue to represent our country with class and distinction, while we continue to grow the game from the grassroots on up by supporting our country's curling centres with the Curling Assistance Program, Adult Learn to Curl programming and youth curling initiatives. It truly is an exciting time to be involved in the sport of curling."

A long-time runner in her spare time, Henderson holds a bachelor of science degree in nutrition from the University of Western Ontario in London, Ont., a master's in business administration from the Schulich School of Business at York University in Toronto and a master's in theological studies from the University of Toronto.

* Last-rock advantage

Five years after he first picking up a rock, 15-year-old high school student Nick Codner became the youngest curler to play in the Tim Hortons Brier when he stepped on the ice as alternate for Newfoundland and Labrador. The team, skipped by 19-year-old Nathan Young and curling out of the RE/MAX Centre in St. John's, was junior aged.

Skip Brad Gushue says the odds facing him to win the 2022 Tim Hortons Brier with only three players in the playoffs was akin to playing a hockey game and killing a penalty for 60 minutes. But in a manner that defied logic, Gushue led his three-member team to its fourth Brier title, wrapping it up in Lethbridge with a 9-8 extra-end victory over Alberta's Kevin Koe. The win lifted Gushue into a tie with Koe, Regina's Ernie Richardson and Edmonton's Randy Ferbey and Kevin Martin as skips with four national men's titles.

FIRST-TEAM ALL-STARS

Skip Brad Gushue, Wild Card #1
 Third Marc Kennedy, Northern Ontario
 Second Kevin Marsh, Saskatchewan

SECOND-TEAM ALL-STARS

 Second John Morris, Alberta
 Lead Ben Hebert, Alberta

ROSS HARSTONE AWARD

Team Nova Scotia third Scott Saccary was the winner of the 2022 Ross Harstone Award, whose recipient is selected by the players. The award is presented to the curler who best combines playing ability and sportsmanship.

PAUL McLEAN AWARD

Phil Laplante was the recipient of the Paul McLean Award at the 2022 Tim Hortons Brier. The award is presented by TSN to a person behind the scenes who has made a significant contribution to the sport of curling. Laplante is a TSN technical producer.

Defending champs Team Canada, skipped by Edmonton's Brendan Bottcher, were knocked out in the Page semifinal game.

CANADIAN CURLING HALL OF FAME

There is no greater honour in curling than to be selected to the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame. The Hall, operated by Curling Canada, was established with its first inductees in 1973. The selection committee meets annually to choose inductees from four categories: curler, builder, curler/builder and team. Past presidents of Curling Canada are automatically inducted into the Hall of Fame as part of the Executive Honour Roll.

FOR THE LOVE OF CURLING SCHOLARSHIPS

FUTURE OF OUR SPORT IN GOOD HANDS

The newest selection of For the Love of Curling scholarship recipients is making strides in all aspects of the sport, from able-bodied curling to wheelchair curling, while also setting ambitious goals to grow the sport at the grassroots and high-performance levels.

The scholarship program received 71 submissions and was narrowed to 11 recipients by a seven-person selection panel. Each recipient will receive a $2,500 scholarship.

Of those recipients, the Governor General's Curling Club – an honorary society under the patronage of the Governor General since 1874 – selected one deserving applicant to receive a scholarship financially supported by donations from its members worth $2,500.

“This year's scholars are showcasing their incredible qualities and telling new stories about curling and what it means to be a curler in Canada,” said Curling Canada CEO and selection panel member Katherine Henderson. “These are deserving recipients who amplify the values of sportsmanship, community and integrity. Our sport is in good hands with these future leaders of the game.”

The additional For the Love of Curling Scholarship, presented by the Governor General's Curling Club, is awarded to Cate Fitzgerald of Halifax (Bachelor of Health Science in Respiratory Therapy at Dalhousie University).

“We are honoured to present Cate with a scholarship of $2,500 to further support her educational goals, along with her aspirations to be a future leader in our sport.

Cate is preparing for an exciting season after winning the Canadian junior women's curling championship. Her team aims to qualify Canada for the upcoming world junior championship, and this scholarship will help balance her on-ice aspirations,” said Governor General's Curling Club President Graham Harris.

The 2022-23 scholars have a variety of experiences at all levels of the sport. Deschenes will represent Team Canada with Fitzgerald at the World Junior-B Curling Championships with the ultimate goal of qualifying the Canadian women's team for the 2023 World Junior Curling Championships in Fuessen, Germany.

Nigel is also making history with the For the Love of Curling scholarship program, being the first wheelchair curler to receive the scholarship since the program's start in the 2013-14 season.

All applicants were required to demonstrate excellence on the ice, volunteer leadership in the community and share a personal essay about how curling and the sport's community have impacted the person they are today.

The Curling Canada philanthropic program, introduced during the 2013-14 season to help develop and grow youth and junior curling across Canada, received donations totalling more than $400,000 last season. Programs such as The Egg Farmers Rocks & Rings presented by Curling Canada, Hit Draw Tap presented by Tim Hortons and For the Love of Curling scholarships are only made possible thanks to the generous support of Canada's curling community.
