FEDERATION

PRESIDENT

Kate Caithness

Scotland's Kate Caithness is the first female president of the World Curling Federation and the first female president of any Olympic winter sports federation.

First elected president of the WCF in April 2010 and re-elected without opposition in 2012 and 2014, Caithness has been involved with the sport of curling since the 1980s. As a member of Scotland's Royal Caledonian Curling Club, she went from playing the game to putting something back into the sport in the late 1990s. She served as president of the RCCC Ladies' Branch in 1997-98, then became an RCCC representative to the World Curling Federation.

Since 2000, Caithness has been the driving force behind the WCF's development of wheelchair curling. She was on the team that created the first World Wheelchair Curling Championship and was instrumental in the sport's inclusion at the 2006 Paralympic Winter Games in Turin, Italy.

From 2005 to '09 Caithness was an elected member of the International Paralympic Committee's five-person Sports Council Management Committee and she served on the Paralympic Games Committee from 2006 to '09.

Caithness was elected vice-president of the WCF in 2006 and served two two-year terms under former president Les Harrison.

In March 2011, Caithness was appointed to the Olympic Program Commission, responsible for reviewing and analyzing the sports, disciplines and events program, as well as the number of athletes in each sport, for the Summer and Winter Olympics.

Married and the mother of two sons, Caithness became a grandmother in 2008. She spends her free time with family and, when she has a chance, curling and playing golf at her home club in Edzell, Angus, where she was the Lady Captain from 2002 to '04.

THE WORLD CURLING FEDERATION

The World Curling Federation is the recognized governing body of curling in the world.

The WCF's first formal constitution was approved in 1967 under the original charter of the International Curling Federation in Perth, Scotland. The constitution was significantly adjusted in 1982, when the federation was declared independent from Scotland's Royal Caledonian Curling Club, to which its original constitution had been tied. In 1991, the official name was changed to World Curling Federation. Further significant changes were made in 1994.

The WCF has a four-part mandate:

- To represent curling internationally and to facilitate the growth of the sport through a network of member associations
- To formulate rules of the sport of curling for world competition and all other competitions approved by the WCF and to further the interests of world curling
- To conduct world curling competitions
- To provide co-operation and mutual understanding among member associations and to unite curlers throughout the world

CURLING CANADA BOARD OF GOVERNORS

HUGH AVERY Chair

Hugh Avery of Halifax, who chaired Curling Canada's board of governors in 2013-14, was re-elected for the 2015-16 season. He was first elected to the board in 2010 after years of service to the sport in his home province of Nova Scotia as a director with the Nova Scotia Curling Association and president of the Halifax Curling Club. He also served as co-chair of the Tim Hortons Brier host committee in 2010, when the event was held in Halifax.

Avery began to curl at the Westville Curling Club in 1981, when he was in junior high. He has played in men's championships at the provincial level in both Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Since being elected to the board, Avery has served as a member of the Governance Committee, the CEO Performance and Compensation Committee, the Appointments Suggestion Committee, the Finance and Audit Committee and the Constitutional Review Committee. He is an international representative to the World Curling Federation.

In addition to being association vice-chair in 2012-13 and 2014-15, Avery was the championship liaison to the M&M Meat Shops Canadian Juniors in 2011 and the 2013 and 2015 Tim Hortons Briers.

Professionally, Avery is a senior forensic accountant for the Department of Public Works and Government Services Canada's Forensic Accounting Management Group. He also lectures about fraud for the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nova Scotia as part of its professional development program.

Avery graduated from St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish, Nova Scotia, in 1989 with a bachelor of business administration degree. He continued his education at the Nova Scotia Community College in Stellarton, where he earned a diploma in accounting in 1995. He was designated a chartered accountant in 1998, a certified anti-money-laundering specialist in 2005, and received a diploma in investigative and forensic accounting from the University of Toronto in 2008.

(instructor, coach, official, ice technician), marketing and media.

As a builder, Wilson has chronicled the history of Saskatchewan curling dating back to 1948 through a memorabilia and scrapbook collection that has been 15 years in the making. CURLSASK's historian, Wilson travels with the collection to display it at CURLSASK events throughout the season.

Wilson is also a competitive curler — she played vice-skip for Barb Despina's 1979 Saskatchewan women's championship team — and has coached in the Learn-to-Curl program in Saskatoon.

The Ray Kingsmith Executive of the Year Award is presented annually to the volunteer who best exemplifies the dedication to curling and benevolence demonstrated by Calgary's Ray Kingsmith throughout his life.

FORD HOT SHOTS

The Ford Hot Shots celebrated its 21st season at the 2015 Scotties Tournament of Hearts and Tim Hortons Brier.

When the Ford Motor Co. of Canada became part of international curling in 1995 as title sponsor of the Ford World Curling Championships, it introduced an opportunity for Hearts and Brier curlers to participate in individual skills competitions known as the Ford Hot Shots.

Points curling has long been part of the game in most corners of the curling world. While some countries have individual curling competitions, Ford Hot Shots is the first skills competition at major curling events that pits the abilities of championship curlers against one another's.

In each round of competition, each curler delivers six skill-testing shots — hit and stay, draw the button, draw the port, the raise, hit and roll and double takeout.

Each shot is worth a maximum five points, with the final location of the shooter being valued

WORLD FINANCIAL GROUP CONTINENTAL CUP

Presented by SecurTek Monitoring Solutions

MARKIN MACPHAIL CENTRE › CALGARY › JANUARY 8 TO 11, 2015

PHOTOS: MICHAEL BURNS PHOTOGRAPHY

A jubilant Team Canada celebrates after winning the 2015 World Financial Group Continental Cup in Calgary. The Canadians dominated Team Europe from start to finish, outscoring their opponents by a whopping 42-18. The competition includes mixed doubles, singles, men's and women's team games, and mixed, men's and women's skins.

FINAL SCORE

Team Europe	18
Team Canada	42

The World Financial Group Continental Cup brought together 12 of the best curling teams in the world — six representing Team Europe, six representing Team Canada — facing off in a unique competition in January 2015 in Calgary. A total of 60 points was available from the competition's four events — mixed doubles, singles, team and skins. When the competition was completed, Team Canada was declared the winner with 42 points and awarded the Continental Cup trophy.

MIXED DOUBLES

Each side picked six doubles teams. A doubles team consists of two throwers — one man and one woman — who also provided the sweeping.

Points

One point was awarded for each doubles game won. In the case of a tie, each team received half a point. Six games were played and a total of six points awarded.

Rules

- Scoring was counted as in normal curling.
- Each game was eight ends. Ties were not broken.

- Each team was given 24 minutes of thinking time per game.
- Each team threw five rocks per end. The player delivering the first rock of each end also delivered the last rock of the end; the player throwing the second rock delivered the third and fourth rocks of each end. This rotation could change from end to end and was simply determined by the player who delivered the first rock of each end.
- No rock could be removed from play until after the third rock of each end and any rocks it may have displaced came to rest.
- Two stationary rocks were positioned by the officials at the start of each end. One rock bisected the centre line, approximately eight feet in front of the house (the exact position of this rock was determined by the chief umpire before the competition, depending on ice conditions); the other was positioned at the back of the button so that it bisected the centre line and touched the tee.
- Before the start of each end, one team had an option. The team with the option had its choice of having its rock placed as a guard or having the rock positioned in the house behind the button. If the guard was chosen, the opponent's rock was positioned in the house or vice versa.
- The team with the rock out front as a guard delivered first and the team with the rock in the house delivered second (had last rock in the end).

Curling Canada chair Marilyn Neily and World Financial Group's Rick Williams present the Continental Cup to Team Canada coach Rick Lang, left, and captain Randy Ferbey.

- After the first end, the team that lost the previous end had the option.
- If an end was blanked, the team that blanked forfeited the option for the next end.

Round 1
Europe	Eriksson/Galkina	010	001	10	3
Canada	Rycroft/Olson-Johns	304	110	01	10
Europe	Edin/Sidorova	000	301	02	6
Canada	Miskew/Fry	121	020	30	9
Europe	Prytz/Nergård	001	010	30	5
Canada	Homan/Harnden	110	101	01	5

Team Canada skips, from left, Mike McEwen, Ryan Fry (standing in for Brad Jacobs), Rachel Homan, Jennifer Jones, Val Sweeting and John Morris. "We've had outstanding performances from all six of our teams," said coach Rick Lang after the Canadian victory. "No one has struggled and they really didn't let up. The ice has been fantastic and everyone caught on to it."

Team Europe skips, from left, Anna Sidorova, Niklas Edin, Margaretha Sigfridsson, David Murdoch, Eve Muirhead and Thomas Ulsrud. Entering the final day of competition and mathematically still in contention, Team Europe came out flat, losing five of the six all-important skins matches and scoring only 10 of the 30 available points.

Round 2

Europe	Andrews/Sigfridsson	110	000	01	3
Canada	Wozniak/Sweeting	004	111	10	8
Europe	Svae/Sloan	002	400	01	7

Europe	Murdoch/Muirhead	000	310	10	5
Canada	Morris/Lawes	122	001	02	8

Mixed doubles competition totals:

Team Europe	1.5 points
Team Canada	4.5 points

SINGLES COMPETITION

All of the teams participated in the six singles matches. The competition included six skill-testing shots and each player on each team threw at least one but not more than two shots. The other team members from each side acted as sweepers or skips.

Points

The winner of each game earned one point. Half a point was awarded to each side in the event of a tie. Six singles games were played, so the total points awarded was six.

Run-through

A rock was positioned at the back of the button so that it bisected the centre line and touched the tee. A second rock was positioned four feet in front of the house, also bisecting the centre line. The thrower attempted to hit the front rock and raise it onto the one at the back of the button, removing it from play. Points were awarded as follows:

Raise, hit and stay on the button	5
Raise, hit and stay in the four-foot	4
Raise, hit and stay in the eight-foot	3
Raise, hit and stay in the 12-foot	2
Raise, hit and roll out of the rings	1

Draw the button

The thrower attempted to throw a rock to the button. Points were awarded as follows:

Draw the button	5
Draw the four-foot	4
Draw the eight-foot	3
Draw the 12-foot	2
Draw the free guard zone	1

Draw the port

Using either an in-turn or out-turn, the thrower attempted to draw a rock to the button through a port between two short stones. If the played rock touched either of the stationary rocks as it attempted to pass by, no points were awarded.

Points were awarded as follows:

Draw the button	5
Draw the four-foot	4
Draw the eight-foot	3
Draw the 12-foot	2
Draw the free guard zone area and be clearly past the two stationary stones	1

Raise

The thrower attempted to raise a stationary rock, which was positioned on the centre line in front of the house, into the house. Points were awarded as follows:

Raise the rock to any portion of the button.	5
Raise the rock to any portion of the four-foot.	4
Raise the rock to any portion of the eight-foot.	3
Raise the rock to any portion of the 12-foot.	2
Raise the rock forward so there is space between the two stones and the raised rock is still in play	1

Hit and roll

The thrower attempted to hit a stationary rock on the outside of the 12-foot circle and roll toward the button. Points were awarded as follows:

Hit and roll to the button	5
Hit and roll to the four-foot.	4
Hit and roll to the eight-foot	3
Hit and roll to the 12-foot	2
Remove the stationary rock from play and have the shooter roll out of the rings	1

Double takeout

The thrower attempted a double takeout. The thrower had to knock both of the stationary rocks out of the house. Points were awarded as follows:

Make the double and have the shooter stop touching the button.	5
Make the double and have the shooter stop touching the four-foot	4
Make the double and have the shooter stop touching the eight-foot	3

SKINS COMPETITION

Aggressive strategy combined with exceptional shotmaking was the highlight of this final battle for points. A total of six skins games — two mixed, two women's and two men's — was played.

Points

Five points were available for each skins game. The first six ends of each game were worth half a point and the last two were worth one point each. Six skins games were played and a total of 30 points awarded.

Canada's Rachel Homan kept her three-game team competition winning streak intact with a last-rock precision hit and roll to defeat Team Europe's Eve Muirhead 6-5.

Canada's Matt Wozniak and Val Sweeting, foreground, took four in the third and then stole their way to an 8-3 mixed doubles win over Margaretha Sigfridsson and Scott Andrews.

Rules

- Each game consisted of eight ends.
- Each team was allocated 32 minutes of thinking time per game. If a team exceeded the allotted time, the game was stopped. Each team retained the points already earned in the game and the remaining points were forfeited to the non-violating team.
- Each end was referred to as a skin. To count a skin when a team had last rock, it had to count at least two points. When a team didn't have last rock, it had to steal at least one point to count a skin.
- If a team scored only one point when it had last rock, it not only lost the hammer, but the end was carried over, which meant the points at stake were carried over to the next end.
- If an end was blanked, a carryover took place and the team that blanked the end forfeited last rock to its opponent.

- If the final end of a skins game resulted in a carryover, the two teams determined who would claim the carryover points by selecting a player from each team to deliver one rock to the button with sweeping. The team that had last rock in the last end shot first.

KEN WATSON AWARD

The 2015 winners of the Ken Watson Award are Quebec third Alex Cormier and Nova Scotia third Jenn Smith. The awards are voted on by the players in the M&M Meat Shops Canadian Juniors and presented to the curlers who best combine playing ability with sportsmanship.

ASHAM COACHING AWARD

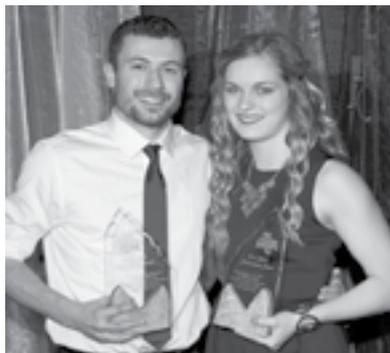

The 2015 Asham National Coaching Award winners are junior men's coach Tom Clasper of Manitoba and junior women's coach Rodney Guy of Northern Ontario. The award winners at the M&M Meat Shops Canadian Juniors are chosen by coaches, who are asked to select an opposing team coach who best exemplifies the attributes of coaching.

JOAN MEAD LEGACY AWARD

Prince Edward Island third Chloé McCloskey and Quebec third Alex Cormier are the 2015 winners of the Joan Mead Legacy Award. Mead was the CBC's curling producer for many years and produced its curling coverage at the 1998 Olympic Winter Games in Nagano, Japan. After she died suddenly in January 2000, the CBC Legacy Award was renamed in her memory and in honour of the great work she had done for curling on behalf of the CBC. The awards began after the CBC was presented with the Golden Rings Award by the International Olympic Association for its excellence in broadcasting curling from the Nagano games. CBC decided to fund an annual award for junior curlers in Canada as an ongoing legacy of the Golden Rings Award and established the CBC Legacy Awards.

Quebec third Alex Cormier and Prince Edward Island third Chloé McCloskey are the 2015 winners of the Joan Mead Legacy Award.

Manitoba's Jennifer Jones, Kaitlyn Lawes, Jill Officer and Dawn McEwen are all smiles after capturing the 2015 Hearts title. Facing a lone Alberta biter after Val Sweeting's final stone rolled too far on a takeout, Jones just needed to draw the 12-foot for the win. "We made eight great shots in the last end, and that's really what won it for us," said Jones.

"I'm really proud of the girls; it was a really great game," said Alberta's Val Sweeting after losing a back-and-forth battle to Manitoba in the final.

MARJ MITCHELL AWARD

Saskatchewan third Sherry Anderson won the Marj Mitchell Award for best embodying the spirit of curling at the 2015 Scotties Tournament of Hearts. It was the second year in a row and third time in her curling career that Anderson has taken home the honour. The award is named in memory of Marj Mitchell, who skipped Canada to its first world title in 1980. In 1983, shortly after the second Hearts, Mitchell died of cancer at the age of 35. The winner is selected each year in a vote by all players at the tournament.

FORD WORLD MEN'S CURLING CHAMPIONSHIP

SCOTIABANK CENTRE › HALIFAX › MARCH 28 TO APRIL 5, 2015

Swedish skip Niklas Edin, third Oskar Eriksson, second Kristian Lindström and lead Christoffer Sundgren got off to a slow start — losing three of their first five games — only to regroup and reel off nine straight victories to claim the 2015 world men's title. It was Edin's second win in three years but this time with a brand new team playing in front of him.

Skip Niklas Edin and his Swedish teammates scored three three-enders on the way to a 9-5 gold-medal win over reigning world champion Thomas Ulsrud of Norway.

Norway's Thomas Ulsrud yells for sweepers Torger Nergård, left, and Christoffer Svae to drag the rock around a guard in gold-medal game action. "We picked some really swingy rocks and I guess the ice was a bit softer in the final today, and we really didn't handle it," said Ulsrud. "But, hey, we lost to a great team today. We lost to a better team."

Hungary's Dorottya Palanca and Zsolt Kiss try to find a way to get at Sweden's shot rock during the world mixed doubles gold-medal game.

Canada's Charley Thomas and Kalynn Park are all smiles despite a disappointing 9-4 loss to Norway in the bronze-medal match.

CANADIAN CURLING HALL OF FAME

Five new members have been inducted into the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame — curlers Kim Kelly, Mary-Anne Arsenault and Nancy Delahunt, curler/builder Warren Hansen and former Curling Canada chair Marilyn Neily.

Nominations to the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame are submitted to the hall selection committee, which annually selects inductees it feels meet the criteria in one of six categories — curler, team, builder, curler/builder, builder/media and executive honour roll.

KIM KELLY, MARY-ANNE ARSENAULT, NANCY DELAHUNT

Curlers

Kim Kelly, Mary-Anne Arsenault and Nancy Delahunt — three of the most accomplished curlers in the sport's history — each won five Scotties Tournament of Hearts titles and two world women's championships playing alongside skip Colleen Jones.

The Halifax-based team of Jones — who was inducted into the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame in 1989 — third Kelly, second Arsenault and lead Delahunt is one of the finest women's teams ever put together. The foursome won its first of five Canadian women's titles in 1999, missed the playoffs in 2000, and then began a record winning streak of four straight national titles in 2001 in Sudbury, Ontario.

The team claimed world championship gold medals in 2001 in Lausanne, Switzerland, and 2004 in Gävle, Sweden, and a silver in 2003 in Winnipeg.

Although the team disbanded after the 2006 season, the players continued to compete at the highest level, with Arsenault skipping Kelly and Delahunt to a provincial title in 2008, and Kelly and Jones in 2013.

Jones, Kelly and Delahunt reunited this past season to play seniors, finishing with a silver medal at the Everest Canadian Seniors in Edmonton. Meanwhile, Arsenault, who is not yet eligible for senior play, skipped a young Nova Scotia team to the Scotties Tournament Hearts, finishing out of the playoffs.

WARREN HANSEN
Curler/builder

Curling Canada’s longtime director of event operations, Warren Hansen has devoted his career to building the sport of curling in Canada and around the world for the past 42 years.

Hansen, a competitive player himself who won the 1974 Macdonald Brier throwing second rocks for Edmonton’s Hec Gervais, had numerous roles over the years with Curling Canada, including in the areas of coaching, officiating and technical development. He was also active in putting together clinics around the world to get new curlers involved in the sport outside of Canada.

That, in turn, would help bring more countries into the curling fold, with a long-term ambition of adding curling as a medal sport to the Olympic Winter Games — a dream Hansen and others would finally see come true in 1998 in Nagano, Japan.

But it was his constant desire to build Canada’s national men’s and women’s curling championships — the Tim Hortons Brier and Scotties Tournament of Hearts — into major sports and entertainment properties that not only determined national champions but also provided ticket-buyers with a show, on and off the ice, for which he may be most remembered. Additionally, he fought to modernize the image of the game to bring it in line with other Olympic sports, putting the emphasis on athleticism.

MARILYN NEILY
Executive Honour Roll

Marilyn Neily served as chair of Curling Canada’s board of governors during the 2014-15 curling season after first being elected to the board in 2010.

Before that, she was very active in sport administration in Nunavut, where she was a special adviser to the government for sport, recreation and physical activity. She played a significant role in the establishment of the Nunavut Curling Association and was a major part of Nunavut’s first hosting of a national curling championship, the 2009 Canadian Mixed, in her hometown of Iqaluit.

Neily was named to the Sport and Recreation Council of Canada’s honour roll in 2011 and, two years later, was awarded the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal for her significant and sustained contributions to making physical activity a priority within her community and country through the national office of ParticipACTION. Neily is retired and now lives in Pleasantville, Nova Scotia.

THE MEMBER ASSOCIATION CUP

Presented by TSN

TSN curling producer Scott Higgins, left, presents the Member Association Cup to CURLSASK board member Bob Ziegler. Based on the highest average points in eight annual national championships — the mixed, junior men's and women's, Hearts, Brier, senior men's and women's and wheelchair — Saskatchewan earned 88 points or an average of 11 per event.

Curling Canada has created a provincial-territorial ranking system to measure member association performances at all of the national curling championships it operates and sanctions.

The system was implemented in 2010-11 by Curling Canada, which is made up of 14 member associations representing Canada's 10 provinces, Northern Ontario and the territories of Yukon, Northwest Territories and Nunavut.

Member associations are ranked based on their final positions in eight annual national championships — the Canadian mixed, Canadian junior men's and women's, Scotties Tournament of Hearts, Tim Hortons Brier, Everest Canadian senior men's and women's and Canadian wheelchair.

The program was created to generate greater interest among curling fans across the country. For years, curling enthusiasts have enjoyed regional rivalries, debating whether their province or territory was better than another. The new system adds legitimacy to a basic ranking system, which tracks how member associations perform.

Under the new system, points totals and results are tracked and updated after each applicable Canadian championship throughout the curling season.

The 2014-15 winners were announced in June at the Curling Canada Summit in Collingwood, Ontario. Based on the highest average points, the Member Association Cup, presented by TSN, was awarded to Saskatchewan, with 88 points or an average of 11 per event.

Saskatchewan's total was bolstered by a first-place performance by Max Kirkpatrick at the mixed, a runner-up finish by Jacob Hersikorn at the juniors and a third-place finish by Steve Laycock at the Brier.

Quebec — the member association making the biggest year-to-year improvement on an average points basis — received the Governor's Cup for an average increase over the eight events of 1.625 points year over year.

Quebec's advancement was buoyed by silver-medal performances by Ted Butler at the seniors and Benoît Lessard at the wheelchair.

PAUL McLEAN AWARD

TSN cameraman Jim Young is the 2015 winner of the Paul McLean Award.

The award was created in 2007 by the Canadian Curling Reporters, in conjunction with TSN, in memory of McLean, a TSN executive producer, and his dedication to the sport of curling. McLean passed away on December 14, 2005, at his home in Brampton, Ontario, after a two-year battle with cancer. He was 39.

The award is presented annually to a person in the media who has made an outstanding contribution to the sport of curling from behind the scenes.

Young has been a cameraman for 37 years and has worked alongside TSN sportscaster Vic Rauter on curling broadcasts for 26 of them. A favourite of many players for his skill as well as his enthusiasm for the sport, Young has covered nine Olympic Winter and Summer Games and shot every sport imaginable for TSN.

Home team faces stiff test at 2016 WORLD FINANCIAL GROUP CONTINENTAL CUP

Already qualified for Team North America are the reigning Canadian champions — Jennifer Jones, Kaitlyn Lawes, Jill Officer and Dawn McEwen, who prevailed at the 2015 Hearts, and John Morris, Pat Simmons, Carter Rycroft and Nolan Thiessen, who won the 2015 Brier. They will be joined by two U.S. entries and the winners of the 2015 Canada Cup.

A three-year win streak will be on the line when the 2016 World Financial Group Continental Cup, presented by Boyd Gaming, kicks off January 14 at Orleans Arena in Las Vegas.

And the re-formed Team North America lineup — returning after a year's absence after last season's Team Canada debut in Calgary — will face a deep, talented and hungry Team World squad in curling's version of the Ryder Cup.

“We've seen all of these teams before and we know what they're capable of — we have a ton of respect for them,” said Winnipeg's Jennifer Jones, who will be competing in her sixth Continental Cup. “This is such a fun event, but it's also extremely competitive and we've had to be at our very best to win three in a row. We know Team World will be going all out to end the streak in Las Vegas.”

Team North America coach Rick Lang and captain Ann Swisshelm won't know their final lineup until December. The 2015 World Financial Group Continental Cup in Calgary featured an all-Canadian home team, but with the event's return to Las Vegas, Team North America will return, with two U.S. teams joining four Canadian teams.

Already qualified for Team North America are the reigning Canadian champions — Pat Simmons of Calgary, who won the 2015 Tim Hortons Brier, and Jones, who prevailed at the 2015 Scotties Tournament of Hearts.

The two U.S. entries will be decided based on World Curling Tour results through November 17. For information, go to www.teamusa.org/USA-Curling/Features/2015/May/15/Points-chase-to-determine-American-teams-for-2016-Continental-Cup.

The final two Canadian teams will be the winners of the 2015 Home Hardware Canada Cup, December 2 to 6 in Grande Prairie, Alberta. Visit www.curling.ca/2015canadacup/ for information.

“We know we've got our work cut out for us,” noted Lang. “Team World will have a motivated group of curlers in Las Vegas who will be eager to end their losing streak, so our team will have to arrive in Las Vegas focused and ready to work hard.”

The reigning world men's and women's champions will headline the Team World squad. Sweden's Niklas Edin, who won gold at the Ford World Men's in Halifax last April, and Switzerland's Alina Pätz, the gold medallist at the ZEN-NOH World Women's last March in Sapporo, Japan, are among the six teams named to Team World.

They'll be joined by 2014 world champion

Thomas Ulsrud of Norway, 2013 world champion Eve Muirhead of Scotland and Japan's Ayumi Ogasawara, who finished a respectable 6-5 at the 2015 women's worlds in her hometown. China has agreed to send a men's team to round out the Team World lineup, and will decide its representatives in early October.

Team World will be coached by 2002 Olympic gold medallist Pål Trulsen of Norway and captained by two-time world silver medallist Andy Kapp of Germany.

"Yes, Team World will be ready to get the Cup away from North America," said Kapp. "We are all highly motivated for one of the biggest curling shows of next season. I expect fantastic shots from the best players on this planet. Let's rock Las Vegas!"

Swisshelm, who lives in Chicago, is a five-time U.S. women's champion, a gold medallist at the 2003 world women's championship in Winnipeg, and represented the U.S. at the 2002 and '14 Olympic Winter Games. She also played in the 2003, '11 and '14 Continental Cups, winning in '11 and '14.

"I'm beyond thrilled," said Swisshelm. "What a crazy, amazing honour of a lifetime to work with the fantastic athletes of Team North America, coach Rick Lang, Curling Canada and the host committee in Las Vegas. Pinch me!"

"Having played in the 2014 Cup in Vegas, where there were tons of fans, great ice, a beautiful venue and killer competition, I can't wait to return and bring all I can from the bench to help Team North America hoist the Cup once again in Las Vegas."

After setting an event attendance record with the wildly successful 2014 edition of the World Financial Group Continental Cup at Orleans Arena, ticket sales indicate another record will be set in January.

"Since we eclipsed the 4,000 mark for Old Classic full-event packages in April, ticket sales through the summer have continued at an astonishing clip of 125 packages each month, taking us to more than 4,500," said event manager Jon Killoran. "There is no doubt that a new attendance record will be set, and curling fans should act quickly to get best available seats for every draw, prior to the launch of mini packs and single draw tickets in November."

Ticket information is available at www.curling.ca/2016continentalcup/tickets/.

FORMAT CHANGE, NEW AGE RULES ADOPTED FOR BRIER, HEARTS

The fields for both the Tim Hortons Brier and Scotties Tournament of Hearts will expand as part of a pilot project in 2018, with curlers of all ages across Canada eligible to compete in them, it was announced following Curling Canada's annual general meeting in Collingwood, Ontario, in June.

Also announced was a new residency rule for elite teams.

The trial format for the Brier and Hearts will remove the pre-qualifying round at the 2018 Canadian men's and women's championships. Instead, the Brier and Hearts will feature champions from all 14 member associations, with the potential of adding other teams with pre-qualified status.

The change will be assessed immediately after the 2018 championships and a new format will be decided in consultations between Curling Canada and its various stakeholders and partners. It will be introduced following the 2018 Olympic Winter Games in PyeongChang, South Korea.

“As always, we listened to the input of our member associations and stakeholders and I think this is a format worth trying out,” said Hugh Avery, who was re-elected to a one-year term on the Curling Canada board of governors and was also elected board chair for the 2015-16 season. “After the 2018 events, we will consult again with member associations, players and other stakeholders to see where we go with this.”

The current pre-qualifying system for the Brier and Hearts, which was introduced last season, is being retained for the 2016 and '17 championships for consistency during the Olympic quadrennial.

Meanwhile, junior-eligible players will now be able to enter the playdowns leading to the Brier, Hearts and Canadian mixed (four player) championship, bringing Curling Canada in line with World Curling Federation and Olympic rules.

Also, a new residency policy adopted by Curling Canada will allow teams to have one non-resident outside of the member association they choose to represent, but the other three players will be subject to stricter proof-of-residency rules that will be enforced by Curling Canada with the co-operation of the players.

“We’re ready to do our part for the integrity of the game,” said Mike McEwen of Winnipeg, skip of the Canadian Team Ranking System 2014-15 top-ranked team. “We understand the thought process that went into this decision and we know it wasn’t an easy decision, but we believe it was the right one and we will do what we can to help Curling Canada and the member associations make it work.”

In addition to the rule and format changes, Curling Canada concluded its season-long chase for the Member Association Cup, presented by TSN, and the Governor’s Cup.

The MA Cup went to Saskatchewan as the member association with the best average finish at each of the eight Curling Canada national championships. The Governor’s Cup was awarded to Quebec as the member association with the best average improvement from the previous season.

Besides Avery, four other new governors were elected to the board: Winnipeg’s Resby Coumts and former Curling Canada board chair Maureen Miller of Yellowknife were elected to four-year terms, Montreal’s Cathy Hughes was elected to a three-year term, and Ron Hutton of Saint John, New Brunswick — like Avery and Miller a former board chair — was elected to a two-year term.

Peter Inch of London, Ontario, was elected board vice-chair.

The AGM took place following the second Curling Canada Summit at Collingwood’s Blue Mountain Resort. The two-day summit featured workshops on all aspects of curling and wrapped up with the second annual Curling Canada Charity Golf Tournament, which was sponsored by Pinty’s.

Among the highlights of the summit was the announcement that Curling Canada’s For The Love of Curling philanthropic program received a $2 million donation from an anonymous benefactor to promote curling among youngsters.
