PRESIDENT

Kate Caithness

Scotland's Kate Caithness is the first female president of the World Curling Federation and the first female president of any Olympic winter sports federation.

First elected president of the WCF in April 2010 and re-elected without opposition in 2012 and 2014, Caithness has been involved with the sport of curling since the 1980s. As a member of Scotland's Royal Caledonian Curling Club, she went from playing the game to putting something back into the sport in the late 1990s. She served as president of the RCCC Ladies' Branch in 1997-98, then became an RCCC representative to the World Curling Federation.

Since 2000, Caithness has been the driving force behind the WCF's development of wheelchair curling. She was on the team that created the first World Wheelchair Curling Championship and was instrumental in the sport's inclusion at the 2006 Paralympic Winter Games in Turin, Italy.

From 2005 to '09 Caithness was an elected member of the International Paralympic Committee's five-person Sports Council Management Committee and she served on the Paralympic Games Committee from 2006 to '09.

Caithness was elected vice-president of the WCF in 2006 and served two two-year terms under former president Les Harrison.

In March 2011, Caithness was appointed to the Olympic Program Commission, responsible for reviewing and analyzing the sports, disciplines and events program, as well as the number of athletes in each sport, for the Summer and Winter Olympics.

Married and the mother of two sons, Caithness became a grandmother in 2008. She spends her free time with family and, when she has a chance, curling and playing golf at her home club in Edzell, Angus, where she was the Lady Captain from 2002 to '04.

THE WORLD CURLING FEDERATION

The World Curling Federation is the recognized governing body of curling in the world.

The WCF's first formal constitution was approved in 1967 under the original charter of the International Curling Federation in Perth, Scotland. The constitution was significantly adjusted in 1982, when the federation was declared independent from Scotland's Royal Caledonian Curling Club, to which its original constitution had been tied. In 1991, the official name was changed to World Curling Federation. Further significant changes were made in 1994.

The WCF has a four-part mandate:

- To represent curling internationally and to facilitate the growth of the sport through a network of member associations
- To formulate rules of the sport of curling for world competition and all other competitions approved by the WCF and to further the interests of world curling
- To conduct world curling competitions
- To provide co-operation and mutual understanding among member associations and to unite curlers throughout the world

CURLING CANADA BOARD OF GOVERNORS

RESBY COUTTS Chair

Resby Coutts became the first member of Winnipeg's Fort Rouge Curling Club to serve in the senior volunteer position at Curling Canada when he took over as the chair of the board of governors for the 2017-18 season.

His election to the board in 2015 followed a six-year term on the board of CurlManitoba, including two years as president, and nearly two decades of volunteer involvement with the major championship events in Manitoba, mainly in media and marketing and as an emcee.

Coutts's term on the board of governors marks nearly five decades of curling volunteerism, beginning when he was intramural curling co-ordinator at the University of Manitoba.

He chaired the Manitoba Men's Safeway Championship in 2013, the first return of the event to Winnipeg in nearly 20 years; co-chaired the 2011 Canadian mixed in Morris, still the smallest community to host a Canadian championship; and was executive director of the 1995 Ford Worlds in Brandon. As a member of the board of governors, Coutts has chaired the Constitution Review Committee and spearheaded a major overhaul of the organization's bylaws through the past two seasons.

Recognition for contributions to the sport have come in the form of a Manitoba Curling Association Honorary Life Membership in 1992, inclusion on the Westman Millennium Curling Wall of Fame in 2000, and membership in the Governor General's Curling Club in 2013.

Coutts learned to play and love the game in a one-sheet curling rink in the mid-1950s in the now-disappeared community of Elva, in southwestern Manitoba, and has been playing and competing ever since.

CURLING CANADA ADMINISTRATION

Curling Canada's head office is located in Orleans, Ontario, at 1660 Vimont Court. The administration is headed by Toronto-based chief executive officer Katherine Henderson. In addition, Al Cameron works from his Calgary office as director of communication and media relations and Gord McNabb is general manager of event operations from his office in Lethbridge, Alberta. Curling Canada has event offices across the country and several contractors who help administer and manage the organization in support of the national office. It also retains a national sponsorship firm in Toronto.

CEO KATHERINE HENDERSON

Katherine Henderson, Curling Canada's chief executive officer, has a wealth of experience in leadership roles in sports, marketing and brand management that spans more than 20 years.

Henderson assumed the role of CEO in April 2016. In addition to the demands of this top executive position at Curling Canada, she accepted an appointment to co-chair the winter caucus of the Canadian Olympic Committee, became an Olympic supporter and a voting delegate for the Canadian Paralympic Committee during her inaugural year as CEO. Prior to joining Curling Canada, she was senior vice-president of marketing and revenue for the Toronto 2015 PanAm/Parapan Am Games organizing committee, with which she played a significant role in putting together the most successful non-Olympic sponsorship program in Canadian history, with a who's who of Canada's corporate community. She also oversaw the negotiation of broadcast rights for the Games and under her watch the PanAm/Parapan Am Games broke records for attendance, ticket sales and television ratings.

Before that, she spent seven years with Whirlpool Corporation, filling prominent leadership roles in marketing and general management for the Canadian and North American divisions. She has also worked in marketing/branding roles with other high-profile companies, including Colgate Palmolive Canada, Campbell Soup Canada and General Mills Canada.

A long-time runner in her spare time, Henderson holds a bachelor of science degree in nutrition from the University of Western Ontario, an MBA from the Schulich School of Business at York University and a master's in theological studies from the University of Toronto.

CURLING CANADA AWARDS

RAY KINGSMITH EXECUTIVE OF THE YEAR AWARD

Ray Kingsmith was a tireless worker for the sport of curling and the same can be said of Kathy Siddall of Kentville, Nova Scotia, the winner of the 2017 Ray Kingsmith Executive of the Year Award.

The award is presented annually to the volunteer who best exemplifies the dedication to curling and benevolence demonstrated by Calgary's Ray Kingsmith throughout his life.

Kingsmith was a super volunteer, the kind who doesn't come around very often. He gave freely of himself, his time and his resources to the sport of curling, which he so loved and believed in. He never asked for nor expected anything in return. Kingsmith passed away in 1988.

Siddall's experience working with events, as well as being a regional director with the Nova Scotia Curling Association, made her an obvious selection for the Kingsmith award.

She has played a lead role in making Nova Scotia curling centres more prominent within their respective communities and has stressed the importance of communication among those curling centres to share successful strategies.

Siddall has also undertaken many volunteer roles at her home clubs — currently the Glooscap Curling Club in Kentville, and before that the Halifax Curling Club.

Over the years, she has held many positions on organizing committees for international, national and provincial championships in Nova Scotia, including the 2015 Ford Word Men's in Halifax, the 2016 Everest Canadian Seniors in Digby and, most recently, the 2017 Canadian Mixed in Yarmouth.

CURLING CANADA VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR

Kate Barratt of Gibsons, British Columbia, is the winner of the 2015-16 Curling Canada Volunteer of the Year Award in recognition of her significant contribution to the success of the Gibsons Curling Club.

While Barratt's contributions to her hometown club go back further than the 2015-16 season, it was then that she stood tallest to ensure that her fellow curlers on the Sunshine Coast had a dependable ice surface on which to play.

With the club's 40-year-old ice plant on its last legs, Barratt went to work to secure funding for a replacement. She applied for grants and donations of all kinds and in the end her single-minded tenacity produced a remarkable $140,000 of the $160,000 needed to complete the project.

At the same time, she took a lead role in establishing a selection committee to determine the contractor for the project, while assembling volunteers to work on a facelift of the club to coincide with its 40th anniversary celebrations.

And if that weren't enough, Barratt continued with her usual volunteer work at the club, producing a newsletter and keeping the club website updated; developing an online registration system; helping to organize leagues and curling clinics for members; and maintaining an annual five per cent growth rate in membership.

AWARD OF ACHIEVEMENT

Regina's Bernadette McIntyre has won the 2017 Curling Canada Award of Achievement in recognition of her long-time work building the sport of curling in Saskatchewan.

The achievement awards are presented annually to recognize individuals who have contributed significantly to curling in one of four areas — builder, technical development (instructor, coach, official, ice technician), marketing and media.

McIntyre's name is synonymous with curling in Saskatchewan, where she devoted countless hours to all aspects of the sport.

She has served as a volunteer on boards ranging from her home club, the Saskatchewan Curling Association — now known as CurlSask — and Curling Canada, for which she served a five-year stint as a member of the board.

If there was a major curling championship in Regina, chances are very good that McIntyre played an active role in it. She served as host committee president at the 1998 Scott Tournament of Hearts, the 2001 Tim Hortons Roar of the Rings and the 2006 Tim Hortons Brier, and as executive vice-president of the 2008 Scotties Tournament of Hearts. She also chaired the host committees of the 2014 CIS-Curling Canada University Championships and the 2016 Canadian Wheelchair Curling Championship. She also chaired the committee that successfully bid to host the 2018 Tim Hortons Brier.

McIntyre is a former recipient of the Joan Mead Builder Award for her contributions to women's curling and is a certified Level 3 official.

FORD HOT SHOTS

The Ford Hot Shots celebrated its 23rd season at the 2017 Scotties Tournament of Hearts and Tim Hortons Brier.

When the Ford Motor Co. of Canada became part of international curling in 1995 as title sponsor of the Ford World Curling Championships, it introduced an opportunity for Hearts and Brier curlers to participate in individual skills competitions known as the Ford Hot Shots.

Points curling has long been part of the game in most corners of the curling world. While some countries have individual curling competitions, Ford Hot Shots is the first skills competition at major curling events that pits the abilities of championship curlers against one another's.

Last season, some of the most iconic shots in curling history were paid tribute in a new version of Ford Hot Shots.

Players in the main round-robin fields of both the Scotties Tournament of Hearts and Tim Hortons Brier were tested in five different shots, including two that replicated the famous shots made by Northern Ontario's Al Hackner in the 1985 Brier final and Saskatchewan's Sandra Schmirler in the final of the 1997 Canadian Curling Trials.

The Hackner shot was a razor-thin double takeout against Alberta's Pat Ryan to score two in the 10th end to force an extra, in which Hackner stole the winning point.

The Schmirler shot — a steep in-off — scored a game-turning three in the 1997 Olympic trials final against Alberta's Shannon Kleibrink. Schmirler went on to win that game and followed it up with a gold medal at the 1998 Olympic Winter Games.

Adding to the excitement were three other always crowd-pleasing shots — a straight raise to the button, a drag-effect double takeout, and an around-the-horn triple takeout to score two.

Each shot was worth a maximum of five points, depending on where the delivered rock came to rest.

The 2017 Scotties Tournament of Hearts and Tim Hortons Brier Hot Shots winners were awarded a two-year lease on a 2017 Ford Escape SE, each with a retail value of approximately $33,140. Runners-up received $2,000 and third-place finishers were awarded $1,000.

Ontario's Rachel Homan accepts the keys to a new Ford Escape SE from Ford's Mike Herniak after outscoring teammate Emma Miskew 21-11 in the Hearts Hot Shots final.

Ford of Canada's Mike Herniak congratulates Hot Shots winner Brad Jacobs on winning a two-year lease on a 2017 Ford Escape, valued at approximately $33,140.

The 2016 world mixed champions: from left, Russian lead Maria Duyunova, second Daniil Goriachev, third Anastasia Bryzgalova and skip Alexander Krushelnitskiy. The Russians put together a 10-game winning streak — including a 5-4 extra-end gold-medal victory over Sweden's Kristian Lindström — en route to only the second-ever world mixed title.

FINAL

Sweden's Johanna Heldin, Jennie Wählin, Joakim Flyg and Kristian Lindström reached the final with an 8-2 win over Scotland in their semifinal matchup. "The turning point was in the fourth end," said Lindström, who stepped in for an ailing Fredrik Nyman three days before the event began. "If we'd kept them to one point it would have been a different game."

Canada Cup champions: from left, Jennifer Jones, Kaitlyn Lawes, Jill Officer and Dawn McEwen. In addition to a $24,000 paycheck, the team secured a spot on Team North America in the 2017 Continental Cup. "It's really hard to win this event," said Jones, a three-time champion. "And to come out and play a good final against a great team is pretty special."

TRY CURLING

WORLD FINANCIAL GROUP CONTINENTAL CUP

Presented by Boyd Gaming

ORLEANS ARENA ▸ LAS VEGAS, NEVADA ▸ JANUARY 12 TO 15, 2017

PHOTOS: MICHAEL BURNS PHOTOGRAPHY

A jubilant Team North America celebrates after winning the 2017 World Financial Group Continental Cup — curling's version of the Ryder Cup. The champions handily won all three disciplines — mixed doubles, men's and women's team competition, and mixed, men's and women's skins — in front of packed houses at the Orleans Arena in Las Vegas.

FINAL SCORE

Team World	23
Team North America	37

The World Financial Group Continental Cup brought together 12 of the best curling teams in the world — six representing Team World, six representing Team North America — facing off in a unique competition in January 2017 in Las Vegas, Nevada. A total of 60 points was available from the competition's three events — mixed doubles, team and skins. When the competition was completed, Team North America was declared the winner with 37 points and awarded the Continental Cup trophy.

MIXED DOUBLES

Each side picked nine mixed doubles teams. A doubles team consists of two throwers — one man and one woman — who also provided the sweeping.

Points

One point was awarded for each doubles game won in Rounds 1 and 2. In the case of a tie, each team received half a point. Two points were awarded for each game won in Round 3*. If there was a tie, each team received one point. Nine games were played and a total of 12 points awarded.

*After the first four ends of Round 3 were completed, new lineups took over to ensure that all 48 participants had the opportunity to play the mixed doubles format.

SKINS COMPETITION

Aggressive strategy combined with exceptional shotmaking was the highlight of this final battle for points. A total of six skins games — two mixed, two women's and two men's — was played.

Reid Carruthers sealed the victory for North America during the final round of skins, with a steep-angle double takeout in the fourth end, setting off a wild celebration on the bench and in the stands. "Oh, the adrenaline is still running through me, to be honest," said Carruthers after the trophy presentation. "For a clinching shot like that, it was pretty exciting."

Points

Five points were available for each skins game. The first six ends of each game were worth half a point and the last two were worth one point each. Six skins games were played and a total of 30 points awarded.

ASHAM NATIONAL COACHING AWARD

The 2017 Asham National Coaching Award winners are junior men's coach Paul Tardi of British Columbia and junior women's coach Pat Quilty of Prince Edward Island. The award winners at the Canadian Juniors are chosen by coaches, who are asked to select an opposing team coach who best exemplifies the attributes of coaching.

"Oh my goodness," said an ecstatic Alberta skip Kristen Streifel after winning the junior women's title, "words cannot describe the feeling."

BALANCE PLUS FAIR PLAY AWARD

Junior Men

Lead	Garret Minute, N.W.T.

Second	Kate Goodhelpsen, Alberta
Third	Laura Guénard, Quebec
Skip	Krysta Burns, N. Ontario
Coach	Susan Lang, Saskatchewan

The Fair Play Award winners are selected by the junior men's and women's officials.

First-team junior women's all-star honours went to, from left, skip Hailey Armstrong and third Grace Holyoke, both of Ontario, and second Sara Oliver and lead Rebecca Cormier, both of Manitoba.

N.L.'s Michelle Taylor and Brooks Roche of P.E.I. are the winners of the 2017 Joan Mead Legacy Award. The winning curlers are selected by the officials for best exemplifying leadership, excellence and fair play.

Quebec's Camille Boisvert and Alberta's Nicholas Rabl are the recipients of the 2017 Ken Watson Award. Voted on by the players, the award goes to the curlers who best combine playing ability with sportsmanship.

JOAN MEAD LEGACY AWARD

Newfoundland/Labrador lead Michelle Taylor and Prince Edward Island lead Brooks Roche are the 2017 winners of the Joan Mead Legacy Award. Mead was the CBC's curling producer for many years and produced its curling coverage at the 1998 Olympic Winter Games in Nagano, Japan. After she died suddenly in January 2000, the CBC Legacy Award was renamed in her memory and in honour of the great work she had done for curling on behalf of the CBC. The awards began after the CBC was presented with the Golden Rings Award by the International Olympic Association for its excellence in broadcasting curling from the Nagano games. CBC decided to fund an annual award for junior curlers in Canada as an ongoing legacy of the Golden Rings Award and established the CBC Legacy Awards.

KEN WATSON AWARD

The 2017 winners of the Ken Watson Award are Quebec skip Camille Boisvert and Alberta lead Nicholas Rabl. The awards are voted on by the players in the Canadian Juniors and presented to the curlers who best combine playing ability with sportsmanship.

The 2017 world junior men's champions: from left, Korean coach Myung Sup Lin, alternate Gyeong Ho Woo, lead Jeong Uk Choi, second-vice Yu Jin Seong, third Ki Bok Lee and skip Ki Jeong Lee. The U.S. took a deuce in the ninth end to knot the game at 4-4, but in the 10th, facing a pair of U.S. rocks, K.J. Lee made a hit-and-stay to score a single for the win.

With two more years of junior eligibility, runner-up Andrew Stopera says: "Now we've just got to put in the hard work to try to get back here."

Ontario skip Rachel Homan made a pressure-packed four-foot runback on her final shot of an extra end to defeat Manitoba in the Hearts final.

Wendy Morgan was awarded the Joan Mead Builder Award for her significant contribution to the growth and development of women's curling.

JOAN MEAD BUILDER AWARD

Presented in the name of Joan Mead, the 2017 Builder Award has been presented to Wendy Morgan of Burlington, Ontario, for her significant contribution to the growth and development of women's curling in Canada. The coach of Team Jennifer Jones, Morgan also has been a major contributor to the long-term success of the Canadian wheelchair curling program as both the program manager and team leader. Morgan's hard work off the ice has produced unparalleled success on the ice, including three Paralympic gold medals and three world titles.

Team Canada's Chelsea Carey, Amy Nixon, Jocelyn Peterman and Laine Peters took home the bronze medal with a 7-4 win over Northern Ontario's Krista McCarville in a re-match of last year's finalists.

The 2017 first-team Scotties Tournament of Hearts all-stars: from left, skip Rachel Homan, third Emma Miskew and second Joanne Courtney, all of Ontario, and British Columbia lead Blaine de Jager.

 Second Sarah Wilkes, Alberta
 Lead Lisa Weagle, Ontario

MARJ MITCHELL AWARD

Northwest Territories skip Kerry Galusha won the Marj Mitchell Award for best embodying the spirit of curling at the 2017 Scotties Tournament of Hearts. The award is named in memory of Marj Mitchell, who skipped Canada to its first world title in 1980. In 1983, shortly after the second Hearts, Mitchell died of cancer at the age of 35. The winner is selected each year in a vote by all players at the tournament.

Skip Kerry Galusha of the Northwest Territories is the recipient of the 2017 Marj Mitchell Award for best embodying the spirit of curling.

SANDRA SCHMIRLER AWARD

Presented in the name of the late Sandra Schmirler, the Most Valuable Player Award was presented to Ontario skip Rachel Homan after she was chosen the most outstanding player in the 2017 Scotties Tournament of Hearts playoffs.

Kruger Products' Mario Gosselin presents the Sandra Schmirler Award as the most valuable player in the playoffs to Ontario's Rachel Homan.

The 2017 Tim Hortons Brier champions: from left, Newfoundland and Labrador's Brad Gushue, Mark Nichols, Brett Gallant and Geoff Walker. It all came down to the final shot with the score tied and Gushue needing to draw the eight-foot for the win. Despite some anxious moments, the sweepers were able to drag their skipper's rock in for the winning point.

Kevin Koe and his Team Canada won the 3-4 play-off and semi to reach the final, where they gave N.L. all they could handle in a 7-6 losing effort.

Canada's Lisa Weagle, Emma Miskew, Rachel Homan and Joanne Courtney discuss shot options during the gold-medal game against Russia. With a 3-1 lead at the break, Canada's big end came in the sixth, when Anna Sidorova's last rock rubbed off a Canadian stone, allowing Homan to make a delicate tap to score three and put the game all but out of reach.

Scottish coach Glenn Howard, alternate Kelly Schafer, lead Lauren Gray, second Vicki Adams, third Anna Sloan and skip Eve Muirhead won the bronze medal in dramatic fashion. Down 4-3 after seven ends to Sweden's Anna Hasselborg, Muirhead drew for one in the eighth and then stole single points in the ninth and 10th for a 6-4 triumph.

FRANCES BRODIE AWARD

Chinese skip Bingyu Wang is the 2017 winner of the Frances Brodie Award. The award winner is selected annually by competitors in the World Women's Curling Championship as the player who best combines playing ability with sportsmanship. The award was named in honour of Scotland's Frances Brodie, one of curling's pioneering women. Brodie helped establish the women's world championship and chaired the first such event in Perth, Scotland, in 1979. The award was presented for the first time in 1989.

Chief umpire Dave Petursson presents the 2017 Frances Brodie sportsmanship award to skip Bingyu Wang of China. The winner is selected annually by the curlers.

* Nunavut was unable to field a team, leaving the pools unbalanced. The top four teams in each pool advance to the championship round, remaining teams to the seeding round. The championship-round teams carry over their records against the other qualifiers in their pool; the seeding-round teams play a five-team round robin.

Skip Jo-Ann Rizzo and her Ontario squad gave up steals in the third, fourth and seventh ends in a 7-3 loss to Saskatchewan's Sherry Anderson.

Curling Canada's Angela Hodgson, left, and Everest president and CEO Mark Duffey, far right, present the Canadian senior men's championship banner and trophy to Alberta's George White, Dan Holowaychuk, Barry Chwedoruk and Wade White. Trailing 4-1 at the break, Alberta battled back to tie it in six and, after trading deuces, stole the win in an extra end.

Ontario skip Howard Rajala upset championship round-robin leader and host-province favourite New Brunswick's Terry Odishaw in the 1-4 playoff to earn a berth in the final.

Canada's Brad Gushue, Mark Nichols, Brett Gallant and Geoff Walker hoist the world men's championship trophy thanks to a 4-2 win over Sweden's Niklas Edin in a hotly contested championship final. Gushue broke open a tight 2-2 affair with two in the ninth end and delivered a takeout with his final rock in 10 to dash any hopes of a Swedish victory.

"We needed to get something good to happen for us and we didn't do that," said two-time world champion Niklas Edin of Sweden after losing the world title to Canada. "Congrats to the better team for the win."

Canada's Brad Gushue celebrates his gold-medal win over Sweden. He is the first skip to win gold at the world juniors, Olympics and world men's.

Switzerland's Valentin Tanner, Benoît Schwarz, Claudio Pätz and Peter de Cruz broke open a tight game with four in the seventh end to defeat John Shuster of the U.S. 7-5 to capture the bronze medal.

The Canucks completed a perfect 13-0 run with a 4-2 victory over Sweden's Niklas Edin. With a podium finish, the team punched its ticket to the Roar of the Rings Canadian Curling Trials in Ottawa in early December.

COLIN CAMPBELL MEMORIAL AWARD

Lead Carlo Glasbergen of the Netherlands is the winner of the 2017 Colin Campbell Memorial Award. The award winner is selected annually by competitors in the World Men's Curling Championship as the player who best combines playing ability with sportsmanship. The award was instituted in 1979 to honour the memory of Colin A. Campbell, who served as president of the International Curling Federation (now the World Curling Federation) from 1969 until his death in 1978.

Head official Brett Waldroff presents the Colin Campbell Memorial Award — which goes to the player who best combines playing ability with sportsmanship — to Netherlands lead Carlo Glasbergen.

Sporting their 2017 Canadian mixed doubles hardware are gold medalists Reid Carruthers, far left, and Joanne Courtney, second from right, and silver medalists John Morris and Rachel Homan. All even after eight ends, Homan's final draw was left slightly exposed, and Courtney made no mistake in removing the Homan-Morris counter to win the national title.

"It feels amazing. We had a great week," said Joanne Courtney. "Reid is an awesome teammate and it was a great battle in the final there."

PROUD LICENSEE/SUPPLIER

CANADIAN CURLING HALL OF FAME

Proud sponsor of Curling Canada.

Two new members have been inducted into the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame — builders Brian Cassidy and Reg Caughie.

BRIAN CASSIDY
Builder

Fredericton's Brian Cassidy — known in stats rooms across the country by his nickname, Mouse — developed curling's first statistical scoring program, which soon became a fixture at Canadian and world championships.

Cassidy co-ordinated a crew of volunteer scorekeepers and provided them with a set of scoring parameters for shot-calls and results, and he put together in-depth analyses of games that went far beyond the scoreboard. This gave coaches new details on the strengths and weaknesses of their players and their opponents, and also provided abundant storylines for media members covering the events.

For his efforts, Cassidy won the Curling Canada Award of Achievement in 1992 and was appointed to the Governor General's Curling Club in 1996.

REG CAUGHIE
Builder

One of the most beloved figures in Tim Hortons Brier history, Reg Caughie never threw a rock during a Brier but has entertained thousands of fans since first donning his Brier Bear mascot costume in 1981 in Halifax.

Caughie was a member of the host committee for that Brier and a meeting at his then home Dartmouth Curling Club produced the idea of a mascot. Caughie volunteered to fill the costume.

Brier Bear was an instant hit and Caughie entertained in the costume at every Brier that followed, culminating with his 37th and final appearance last March in his adopted hometown of St. John's. He announced his retirement as Brier Bear and with him goes the famous costume.

Curling Canada's Peter Inch presents Reg Caughie — a.k.a. Brier Bear — with a commemorative painting in honour of his Hall of Fame induction. Now retired, Caughie served as the Brier mascot for 37 years.

THE MEMBER ASSOCIATION CUP

Presented by TSN

Curling Canada chair Peter Inch, right, presents the Member Association Cup to Ontario Curling Association vice-chair Doug Kreviazuk and chair Rick Meraska. In a rare sweep, Ontario — which earned an impressive 140 points — also received the Governors' Cup for making the biggest year-to-year improvement on an average points basis.

Curling Canada has created a provincial/territorial ranking system to measure member association performances at all of the national curling championships it operates and sanctions.

The system was implemented in 2010-11 by Curling Canada, which is made up of 14 member associations representing Canada's 10 provinces, Northern Ontario and the territories of Yukon, Northwest Territories and Nunavut.

Member associations are ranked based on their final positions in 12 annual national championships — the men's and women's Travelers Curling Club Championship, the Canadian mixed, Canadian junior men's and women's, Scotties Tournament of Hearts, Tim Hortons Brier, Canadian Under-18 boys and girls, Everest Canadian senior men's and women's and Canadian wheelchair.

The program was created to generate greater interest among curling fans across the country. For years, curling enthusiasts have enjoyed regional rivalries, debating whether their province or territory was better than another. The new system adds legitimacy to a basic ranking system, which tracks how member associations perform.

Under the new system, points totals and results are tracked and updated after each applicable Canadian championship throughout the curling season.

The 2016-17 winners were announced in June at Curling Canada's Annual General Meeting in Cornwall, Ontario. Based on the highest average points, the Member Association Cup, presented by TSN, was awarded to Ontario, with 140 points, an average of 11.7 per event.

Ontario's total was bolstered by first-place performances by Rachel Homan at the Hearts and Wesley Forget at the club championship and runner-up finishes by Hailey Armstrong and Matthew Hall at the juniors and Jo-Ann Rizzo and Howard Rajala at the seniors.

Ontario — the member association making the biggest year-to-year improvement on an average points basis — also received the Governors' Cup for an average increase over the 12 events of 2.9 points year over year.

PAUL McLEAN AWARD

TSN floor director Leigh Buttery is the 2017 winner of the Paul McLean Award.

The award was created in 2007 by the Canadian Curling Reporters, in conjunction with TSN, in memory of McLean, a TSN executive producer, and his dedication to the sport of curling. McLean passed away on December 14, 2005, at his home in Brampton, Ontario, after a two-year battle with cancer. He was 39.

The award is presented annually to a person in the media who has made an outstanding contribution to the sport of curling from behind the scenes.

A Season of Champions veteran, Buttery's first curling event dates back to the 1995 Canadian mixed in Sarnia, Ontario, and he has covered numerous events since.

While you may not notice him, that's generally a sign that Buttery's doing his job well. He's the man who makes sure that everything you see on television looks smooth, runs on time and that everybody goes where they're supposed to go; and he does it all with a sense of calm that settles everyone down and helps them focus.

TEAM WORLD SET FOR 2018 WORLD FINANCIAL GROUP CONTINENTAL CUP

Already qualified for Team North America are the reigning Canadian and world champions — Lisa Weagle, Joanne Courtney, Emma Miskew and Rachel Homan of Ottawa, and Geoff Walker, Brett Gallant, Mark Nichols and Brad Gushue of St. John's, Newfoundland and Labrador. They will be joined by both the United States and Canadian Olympic representatives.

The 2018 World Financial Group Continental Cup will have a distinctly Olympic feel in January in London, Ontario.

Four of the six teams that will comprise Team World have already been selected to represent their countries at the 2018 Olympic Winter Games in PyeongChang, South Korea. The fifth and sixth are still candidates to play at the Olympics.

Both the captain and coach — Scotland's recently retired David Murdoch and Sweden's Fredrik Lindberg — are former Olympic medal-winners as players.

They will bring that star-studded lineup to The Sports Centre at Western Fair District in London in hopes of ending a five-year losing streak to Team North America in curling's version of the Ryder Cup.

"It's been a number of years since our last victory, so they're already motivated," said Murdoch, who participated in seven WFG Continental Cups as a player, winning twice — in 2008 in Camrose, Alberta, and in 2006 in Chilliwack, British Columbia. "But the chance to see many of the teams they will be facing in PyeongChang will add to the excitement level. I know our teams will be working extremely hard in the next months to make sure they're in peak form for London."

Murdoch and Lindberg will helm a team that includes reigning world men's silver medallist, Sweden's Niklas Edin and bronze medallist Peter de Cruz of Switzerland, along with 2016 world women's silver medallist Satsuki Fujisawa of Japan.

Those three teams have already been declared their respective country's Olympic reps, as has Anna Hasselborg of Sweden, who finished fourth at the 2017 World Women's Curling Championship.

Team World will be rounded out by former world champ and 2010 Olympic silver medallist Thomas Ulsrud of Norway, who will be Olympics-bound with a top-four finish at the European Curling Championships, and Switzerland's Silvana Tirinzoni, who will participate in the Swiss Women's Olympic Curling Trials in October.

Meanwhile, the host Team North America squad will have no shortage of Olympic representatives. Both the Canadian and U.S. men's and women's Olympic teams will be on the squad, which will again be coached by Rick Lang, with Al Hackner, his former long-time skip and fellow resident of Thunder Bay, Ontario, serving as captain.

The Canadian Olympic men's and women's four-player teams will be decided at the 2017 Tim Hortons Roar of the Rings December 2 to 10 in Ottawa, while the U.S. will decide its Olympic teams at the U.S. Olympic Team Trials November 11 to 18 in Omaha, Nebraska.

Also part of Team North America will be the reigning Canadian and world championship teams, skipped by Brad Gushue of St. John's, Newfoundland and Labrador, and Rachel Homan of Ottawa.

Should those teams also win at the Tim Hortons Roar of the Rings, the runner-up teams at the 2017 Tim Hortons Brier and Scotties Tournament of Hearts — Calgary's Kevin Koe and Winnipeg's Michelle Englot — would be awarded berths in the World Financial Group Continental Cup.

Hackner was recently hired by USA Curling to join its High Performance Program coaching staff. Hackner and Lang combined to win world men's curling championships in 1982 and '85.

"It's exciting to be reunited with Al, because he has a wealth of information inside of that head of his that he can bring to the team, and we'll need all of it because Team World will be hungrier than ever," said Lang, who also serves as Curling Canada's national men's coach. "I have a great deal of respect for both David and Fredrik and, based on the sheer talent of their lineup, we have a tough task ahead of us in London to keep that trophy at home."

INVESTING IN YOUR FUTURE CHAMPIONS

THE 2017 CURLING CANADA

Foundation's For the Love of Curling scholarships have been awarded to 13 deserving young curlers — 10 received $1,000 scholarships thanks to the caring support of the curling community across Canada and three young women earned $1,100 scholarships each that were made possible through a generous one-time grant from the now-defunct Women's World Curling Tour.

The scholarship program, which helps university or college students cover a portion of their education and curling costs, received 70 applications from across the country.

The 2017-18 $1,100 scholarship recipients are:

Krysta Burns of Sudbury, Ontario, who is studying forensic science at Laurentian University in Sudbury; Sarah Daniels of Delta, British Columbia, who's studying health sciences at Simon Fraser University in Vancouver, and Megan Smith of Sudbury, who's studying biomedical biology at Laurentian.

The 2017-18 $1,000 scholarship recipients are:

Nicholas Bissonnette of Sudbury, who's studying physical education and health at Laurentian; Kira Brunton of Sudbury, who's studying sport psychology at Laurentian; Donald DeWolfe of Cornwall, Prince Edward Island, who's studying science at Mount Saint Vincent University in Halifax; Rob

Gordon of Winnipeg, who's studying education at the University of Winnipeg; Sara Guy of Wahnapiatae, Ontario, who's studying nursing at Laurentian; Matthew Hall of Kitchener, Ontario, who's in an honours financial mathematics program at Wilfrid Laurier University in Kitchener; Sarah Hoag of Gravelbourg, Saskatchewan, who's in pre-law at the University of Regina; Matthew Manuel of Halifax, who's studying engineering at Dalhousie University in Halifax; Brooks Roche of Montague, Prince Edward Island, who's studying environmental design studies/ masters of architecture at Dalhousie, and Mackenzie Zacharias of Altona, Manitoba, who's studying kinesiology at the University of Manitoba.

"We couldn't be happier to see these young curlers rewarded for their hard work — on the ice, in the classroom and in their communities," said Curling Canada chair Peter Inch. "It was gratifying to see what kind of quality there is in the youth curling community; it fills me with optimism about the future of our sport."

The selection committee consisted of Inch, Curling Canada chief executive officer Katherine Henderson, former Curling Canada chair Fran Todd, 2010 Olympic silver medallist Cheryl Bernard and former scholarship recipients Daniel Grant, Karsten Sturmey and Cathlia Ward.

"I was thrilled to be a part of the selection process and just so happy to see the legacy funds of the Women's World Curling Tour used in this way," said Bernard, who was one of the key proponents of the WWCT. "From my time as a young player, I know how challenging it was to compete at a high level while keeping my school commitments in mind, and I'm really pleased that this program is in place to make life a little easier for these athletes."

The Curling Canada Foundation philanthropic program was introduced during the 2013-14 season to help junior curling and to support curling centres in Canada. Last season, donors invested more than $650,000 to specifically support youth programs across Canada.

2017 National

Curling Congress

Curling Canada will proceed with the introduction of new helmet recommendations for young and beginning curlers.

The move came out of Curling Canada's Annual General Meeting in Cornwall, Ontario, the concluding event of the 2017 National Curling Congress.

Representatives of Curling Canada's 14 member associations approved a motion that endorses the immediate release of a statement that encourages Canadian curling clubs and facilities to acknowledge a concern about head injuries and concussions. It urges clubs and facilities to implement helmet-use initiatives in beginner and novice curling programs and to strongly suggest helmets be worn by all players under 12 years of age.

"I believe this is an important move that puts our sport in a leadership position in terms of making sure our young and beginning curlers are playing the sport with safety in mind," said Peter Inch, outgoing chair of

Curling Canada's board of governors. "It won't be an overnight move, but I think this pushes the conversation forward and makes sure that we're making those safety concerns a priority."

Curling Canada also welcomed two new governors to its 10-member board.

Toronto's George Cooke, who was inducted into the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame in 2014, and Edmonton's Brad Gibb, a former president of the Northern Alberta Curling Association, were elected to the board. They replace outgoing governors Shirley Osborne of Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, and Ron Hutton of Saint John, New Brunswick.

The board also elected a new chair and vice-chair for the 2017-18 season. Winnipeg's Resby Coutts moved from vice-chair to chair, while Maureen Miller of Yellowknife takes over as vice-chair.

"I've had wonderful mentors to work with and I have immense shoes to fill, but I'm looking forward to the challenge," said Coutts. "We have much to look forward to as a sport, and we have a great team, with our member associations, Curling Canada staff and board of governors in place to keep taking our sport in a positive direction."

The National Curling Congress also featured the awarding of the Member Association Cup and the Governors' Cup.

The MA Cup, presented by TSN, went to Ontario as the member association with the best average finish at each of Curling Canada's national championships. The Ontario Curling Association finished on top of the standings for the first time since 2013, and also completed a trophies sweep by claiming the Governors' Cup for posting the best average improvement from the previous season.

THE 2018 OLYMPIC

WINTER GAMES

Curling will have an expanded presence at the 2018 Olympic Winter Games next February in PyeongChang, South Korea.

So expanded, in fact, that curling is the only sport that will be contested for all 17 official days of competition – and actually requires one extra day, on the Thursday before the opening ceremonies.

That's due to the addition of the mixed doubles format. After years of lobbying by the World Curling Federation and its member associations, the International Olympic Committee formally added mixed doubles as a medal sport in June 2015.

That means there will be three Olympic gold medals on the line at the 3,500-seat Gangneung Curling Centre, which also played host to the 2009 World Women's Curling Championship.

It will be the sixth time that curling has been a full-medal sport, and the 2018 edition kicks off with the mixed doubles competition on February 8 – a day before the official opening ceremonies. That competition will conclude with medal games on Tuesday, February 13. The four-player competition for men and women begins the following day and concludes with the men's gold-medal game on Saturday, February 24, and the women's gold-medal game the following day.

The Games officially welcomed curling in July 1992, when the IOC announced that curling would be recognized for the first time as a medal sport at the 1998 Olympic Winter Games in Japan. Curling made its Olympic debut as a full-medal sport in 1998 at Kazakoshi Park Arena in Karuizawa, Japan, about an hour from downtown Nagano.

Curling made its next Olympic appearance in Salt Lake City, Utah, in 2002 at The Ice Sheet arena on the campus of Weber State University in Ogden, Utah, 45 kilometres north of Salt Lake City.

Four years later, in 2006, the Olympic curling competition took place at the Palaghiaccio, a multi-purpose ice arena in Pinerolo, Italy, 35 kilometres southwest of Torino.

Vancouver played host to the 2010 Olympics and the curling events were held at the 5,600-seat Vancouver Olympic/Paralympic Centre.

In 2014, the 3,000-seat Ice Cube Curling Center in Sochi, Russia, hosted the curling competition.

The 3,500-seat Gangneung Curling Centre in Gangneung, South Korea, plays host to the 2018 Olympic men's, women's, mixed doubles and Paralympic curling competitions.

OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES QUALIFICATION POINTS

THE ROAD TO PYEONGCHANG

The World Curling Federation has 56 member associations, but only 10 teams of each gender are allowed to participate at the medal level of the 2018 Games in four-player competition, and just eight in the inaugural mixed doubles competition.

Although Scotland, Wales and England compete individually in the world championships, Great Britain has only one entry in the Olympics. For 2018, only Scotland was allocated Olympic qualifying points for Great Britain in both disciplines.

South Korea, as host nation, has berths in both the men's and women's team competitions, in addition to the mixed doubles event.

In four-player competition, seven berths were assigned on the basis of points accumulated at the 2016 and '17 world championships. (Points were awarded according to the final ranking of each of the 12 participating teams as follows: 14, 12, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1.)

The remaining two berths will be determined at a WCF Olympic qualifying event to be staged December 5 to 10 in the Winter Arena Košutka in Pilsen, Czech Republic. Any member association that earned points at the 2016 or '17 world championships or participated in the 2014 or '15 worlds is eligible.

In the mixed doubles event, the seven available berths were decided based on the combined results of the 2016 and '17 world championships, with points awarded to the top 12 finishers as follows: 14, 12, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1.

2018 CANADIAN OLYMPIC QUALIFICATION PROCESS

Curling Canada's qualification process for the 2018 Olympic Winter Games is designed to be fair to all competing teams, reward consistent play and ensure that the country's best curlers represent Canada in PyeongChang in both four-player and mixed doubles competition.

The 21 men's and 21 women's teams that qualified for the Tim Hortons Roar of the Rings Canadian Curling Trials or Home Hardware Road to the Roar pre-trials did so by winning the 2015 or '16 Home Hardware Canada Cup, the 2015 or '16 Tim Hortons Brier or Scotties Tournament of Hearts (and then winning a medal at the world championship), or by their final standings on the Canadian Team Ranking System in 2016-17, and the highest two-year CTRS totals based on the past two seasons.

Nine men's and nine women's teams will compete in the 2017 Roar of the Rings curling trials. Round-robin preliminaries, followed by three-team playoffs, will take place December 2 to 10 in Ottawa at the Canadian Tire Centre.

Seven teams of each gender have qualified directly into the trials, while the final two berths for each will emerge from a pre-trials competition.

The 2013 Home Hardware Road to the Roar pre-trials, to be held November 6 to 12 at Credit Union Place in Summerside, Prince Edward Island, includes 14 men's and 14 women's teams competing in a two-pool round robin. Six teams of each gender will advance to the playoffs, with two men's and two women's teams qualifying for the trials.

Meanwhile, 18 teams will play for the right to be Canada's first Olympic mixed doubles team January 2 to 7 at the first Canadian Mixed Doubles Curling Trials at Stride Place in Portage la Prairie, Manitoba.

The field will be split into two pools of nine, with the first- and second-place teams in each pool, and the four teams with the next best win-loss records, regardless of pool, advancing to a modified double knockout playoff.

Members of the four-player men's and women's curling team representatives for the 2018 Olympics aren't eligible to participate in the 2018 Canadian Mixed Doubles Curling Trials.

If both players from a mixed doubles trials-eligible team are competing in the 2018 Olympics, that team will be replaced by the first team on the wait list.

If a mixed doubles trials team has an individual player competing at the 2018 Olympics, the team will be able to replace that player.

Teams qualified for the Canadian Mixed Doubles Curling Trials by representing Canada at the 2016 world mixed doubles championship; by finishing in the top three at the 2017 Canadian mixed doubles championship; by winning a regional mixed doubles qualifying event; or by its standing on the Canadian mixed doubles rankings.

THE 2018 PARALYMPIC WINTER GAMES

Wheelchair curling will be contested as a medal sport for the fourth time when the 2018 Paralympic Winter Games take place March 9 to 18 in PyeongChang, South Korea.

The sport made its Paralympic debut at the 2006 Games in Torino, Italy — games were played in Pinerolo, about 35 kilometres away from Torino.

Wheelchair curling was also part of the 2010 Paralympics in Vancouver and the 2014 Paralympics in Sochi, Russia.

Canada won gold in all three previous Paralympic wheelchair-curling competitions. In 2006, Chris Daw skipped the Canadian team, while Jim Armstrong skipped the gold-medal teams in 2010 and '14. Sonja Gaudet is the only curler who was a member of all three Canadian teams.

Canada's representatives for the PyeongChang Paralympics will be selected by Curling Canada's national coaching staff later this year, following a series of training camps involving high-performance players.
