FEDERATION

PRESIDENT

Kate Caithness

Scotland's Kate Caithness is the first female president of the World Curling Federation and the first female president of any Olympic winter sports federation.

First elected president of the WCF in April 2010 and re-elected without opposition in 2012 and 2014, Caithness has been involved with the sport of curling since the 1980s. As a member of Scotland's Royal Caledonian Curling Club, she went from playing the game to putting something back into the sport in the late 1990s. She served as president of the RCCC Ladies' Branch in 1997-98, then became an RCCC representative to the World Curling Federation.

Since 2000, Caithness has been the driving force behind the WCF's development of wheelchair curling. She was on the team that created the first World Wheelchair Curling Championship and was instrumental in the sport's inclusion at the 2006 Paralympic Winter Games in Turin, Italy.

From 2005 to '09 Caithness was an elected member of the International Paralympic Committee's five-person Sports Council Management Committee and she served on the Paralympic Games Committee from 2006 to '09.

Caithness was elected vice-president of the WCF in 2006 and served two two-year terms under former president Les Harrison.

In March 2011, Caithness was appointed to the Olympic Program Commission, responsible for reviewing and analyzing the sports, disciplines and events program, as well as the number of athletes in each sport, for the Summer and Winter Olympics.

Married and the mother of two sons, Caithness became a grandmother in 2008. She spends her free time with family and, when she has a chance, curling and playing golf at her home club in Edzell, Angus, where she was the Lady Captain from 2002 to '04.

THE WORLD CURLING FEDERATION

The World Curling Federation is the recognized governing body of curling in the world.

The WCF's first formal constitution was approved in 1967 under the original charter of the International Curling Federation in Perth, Scotland. The constitution was significantly adjusted in 1982, when the federation was declared independent from Scotland's Royal Caledonian Curling Club, to which its original constitution had been tied. In 1991, the official name was changed to World Curling Federation. Further significant changes were made in 1994.

The WCF has a four-part mandate:

- To represent curling internationally and to facilitate the growth of the sport through a network of member associations
- To formulate rules of the sport of curling for world competition and all other competitions approved by the WCF and to further the interests of world curling
- To conduct world curling competitions
- To provide co-operation and mutual understanding among member associations and to unite curlers throughout the world

CURLING CANADA BOARD OF GOVERNORS

PETER INCH
Chair

A native of London, Ontario, Peter Inch takes over as chair of Curling Canada's board of governors — a role he's prepared for over the years through countless volunteer hours devoted to the sport of curling.

Before being elected to the board at the 2013 National Curling Congress in Ottawa, Inch worked tirelessly on behalf of the sport, helping to organize numerous championships in his hometown.

He was the host committee chair for the 2006 Scott Tournament of Hearts and the 2011 Tim Hortons Brier, the latter bringing the honour of a 2011 Prestige Award as the Canadian Sports Event of the Year.

He also served as chair of the 2002 Canadian Senior Men's and Women's Curling Championships host committee in nearby St. Thomas, and was director of ceremonies for the 1994 Ontario Men's Curling Championship and the 1997 Ontario Intermediate Curling Championship in St. Thomas.

Inch's hard work has earned him a number of civic awards. In 2014, he was given a lifetime membership at the St. Thomas Curling Club. In 2011, he was named Sports Person of the Year in London and in 2007, he was named to the Mayor of London New Year's Honours List for Outstanding Contributions to Sports in the City of London.

In addition to his duties as vice-chair last season, Inch was chair of both the Governance Review and the Events Review committees and was Curling Canada's representative at the Canadian Olympic Committee and international representative for the World Curling Federation meetings.

Inch will be inducted into the Governor General's Curling Club in November 2016.

CURLING CANADA ADMINISTRATION

Curling Canada's head office is located in Orleans, Ontario, at 1660 Vimont Court. The administration unit has a resident staff of 14, headed by Toronto-based chief executive officer Katherine Henderson. In addition, Al Cameron works from his Calgary office as director of communication and media relations and Gord McNabb is interim director of event operations from his office in Lethbridge, Alberta. Curling Canada has event offices across the country and several contractors who help administer and manage the organization in support of the national office. It also retains a local sponsorship firm in Winnipeg and a national sponsorship firm in Toronto.

CEO KATHERINE HENDERSON

Katherine Henderson, Curling Canada's new chief executive officer, has a wealth of experience in leadership roles in sports, marketing and brand management that spans more than 20 years.

Henderson assumed her role on April 1. She most recently was senior vice-president of marketing and revenue for the Toronto 2015 PanAm/Parapan Am Games organizing committee, with which she played a significant role in putting together the most successful non-Olympic sponsorship program in Canadian history, with a who's who of Canada's corporate community. She also oversaw the negotiation of broadcast rights for the Games and under her watch the PanAm/Parapan Am Games broke records for attendance, ticket sales and television ratings.

Before that, she spent seven years with Whirlpool Corporation, filling prominent leadership roles in marketing and general management for the Canadian and North American divisions. She has also worked in marketing/branding roles with other high-profile companies, including Colgate Palmolive Canada, Campbell Soup Canada and General Mills Canada.

A long-time runner in her spare time, Henderson holds a bachelor of science degree in nutrition from the University of Western Ontario, an MBA from the Schulich School of Business at York University and a master's in theological studies from the University of Toronto.

CURLING CANADA AWARDS

RAY KINGSMITH EXECUTIVE OF THE YEAR AWARD

The Ray Kingsmith Executive of the Year Award is presented annually to the volunteer who best exemplifies the dedication to curling and benevolence demonstrated by Calgary's Ray Kingsmith throughout his life.

Kingsmith was a super volunteer, the kind that doesn't come around very often. He gave freely of himself, his time and his resources to the sport of curling, which he so loved and believed in. He never asked for nor expected anything in return. Kingsmith passed away in 1988.

The award was not presented in 2016.

CURLING CANADA VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR AWARD

Louis Tanguay of Winkler, Manitoba, is the winner of the 2014-15 Curling Canada Volunteer of the Year Award in recognition of his significant contribution to the success of the Winkler Curling Club.

Tanguay worked tirelessly on behalf of his hometown and his hometown curling centre during the 2014-15 season to make the 2015 Manitoba Scotties Tournament of Hearts in Winkler an off-the-charts success.

As the event's co-chair, the long-time community booster helped oversee an event that produced a profit in excess of $100,000 and generated sellout crowds.

Tanguay's hard work earned him both the Curl Manitoba Volunteer of the Year Award and the Winkler and Area Community Foundation Citizen of the Year Award.

Besides being an avid curler, Tanguay has served as president, past president and secretary

BOARD OF GOVERNORS SPECIAL RECOGNITION AWARD

Hugh Avery of Halifax is the recipient of the 2016 Board of Governors Special Recognition Award, which was previously known as the President's Award. Initiated in 2005, the award is presented annually to an individual or organization whose unique contributions or achievements significantly impact the sport of curling in Canada.

Under Avery's leadership, and thanks to his professionalism and vision, Curling Canada took significant strides forward as an organization. His steady hand during two terms as chair of the board of governors was crucial and his contributions will be recognized long into the future.

Avery worked toward continuing to build and strengthen the lines of communication for all stakeholders in the sport of curling in Canada, doing it all as a volunteer and largely out of the spotlight. His tireless work did not generate media headlines, but it was crucial.

FORD HOT SHOTS

The Ford Hot Shots celebrated its 22nd season at the 2016 Scotties Tournament of Hearts and Tim Hortons Brier.

When the Ford Motor Co. of Canada became part of international curling in 1995 as title sponsor of the Ford World Curling Championships, it introduced an opportunity for Hearts and Brier curlers to participate in individual skills competitions known as the Ford Hot Shots.

Points curling has long been part of the game in most corners of the curling world. While some countries have individual curling competitions, Ford Hot Shots is the first skills competition at major curling events that pits the abilities of championship curlers against one another's.

In each round of competition, each curler delivers six skill-testing shots — hit and stay, draw the button, draw the port, the raise, hit and roll and double takeout.

Each shot is worth a maximum five points, with the final location of the shooter being valued as follows: button – 5 points, four-foot circle – 4 points, eight-foot circle – 3 points, 12-foot circle – 2 points. On each shot a single point is awarded if the shot has been missed on the professional side or is deemed to have provided some sort of positive result.

The 2016 Scotties Tournament of Hearts and Tim Hortons Brier Hot Shots winners were awarded two-year leases on a 2016 Ford Edge Sport SUV, each with a retail value of approximately $49,789 MSRP. Runners-up received $2,000 and third-place finishers were awarded $1,000.

The 2015 world mixed champions: from left, Norwegian coach Ole Ingvaldsen, lead Pia Trulsen, second Sander Rølvåg, third Julie Molnar and skip Steffen Walstad. After putting together a 6-2 round-robin record, the Norwegians were unbeatable in the playoffs, winning four straight en route to the first-ever world mixed title.

Up by a pair going into the eighth end, Norway's Steffen Walstad and his mates simply kept the house clean to run Sweden out of rocks and take home the gold medal.

Sweden's Johanna Heldin, Joakim Flyg, Rasmus Wranå and Zandra Flyg wave to their fans after a 6-5 semifinal victory over Russia to reach the all-Scandinavian final. The Swedes, who admittedly didn't have their best game, fell to Norway 5-3. "We didn't get behind the guards so we gave them some easy shots, unfortunately," said a disappointed Wranå.

Matt Wozniak, left, and Denni Neufeld jump on Mike McEwen's rock in final-game action. Looking to make it back-to-back Canada Cup titles, the Winnipeggers came up short against a near-perfect Team Koe.

The 2015 Canada Cup champions: from left, skip Kevin Koe, third Marc Kennedy, second Brent Laing and lead Ben Hebert. Koe executed a dramatic skinny double takeout to score a crushing three in the ninth end to finish off Mike McEwen 7-3. "He put on a clinic out there tonight," said Hebert of his skip. "When your skip plays like that, it's tough to lose."

WORLD FINANCIAL GROUP CONTINENTAL CUP

Presented by Boyd Gaming

ORLEANS ARENA » LAS VEGAS, NEVADA » JANUARY 14 TO 17, 2016

PHOTOS: MICHAEL BURNS PHOTOGRAPHY

A joyous Team North America celebrates after winning the 2016 World Financial Group Continental Cup in dramatic fashion. Never in the history of the event had the two sides entered the final draw tied, with the championship trophy hanging in the balance. The competition includes mixed doubles, men's and women's team games, and mixed, men's and women's skins.

FINAL SCORE

Team World	29.5
Team North America	30.5

The World Financial Group Continental Cup brought together 12 of the best curling teams in the world — six representing Team World, six representing Team North America — facing off in a unique competition in January 2016 in Las Vegas, Nevada. A total of 60 points was available from the competition's three events — mixed doubles, team and skins. When the competition was completed, Team North America was declared the winner with 30.5 points and awarded the Continental Cup trophy.

MIXED DOUBLES

Each side picked nine mixed doubles teams. A doubles team consists of two throwers — one man and one woman — who also provided the sweeping.

Points

One point was awarded for each doubles game won in Rounds 1 and 2. In the case of a tie, each team received half a point. Two points were awarded for each game won in Round 3*. If there was a tie, each team received one point. Nine games were played and a total of 12 points awarded.

*After the first four ends of Round 3 were completed, new lineups took over to ensure that all 48 participants had the opportunity to play the mixed doubles format.

ASHAM COACHING AWARD

The 2016 Asham National Coaching Award winners are junior men's coach Benoit Forget and junior women's coach Michel St-Georges, both of Quebec. The award winners at the Canadian Juniors are chosen by coaches, who are asked to select an opposing team coach who best exemplifies the attributes of coaching.

"I can't even put it into words," said Nova Scotia skip Mary Fay after her 9-5 win over B.C.'s Sarah Daniels. "It's the most amazing feeling ever."

JOAN MEAD LEGACY AWARD

Newfoundland/Labrador second Gabby Molloy and Alberta skip Karsten Sturmay are the 2016 winners of the Joan Mead Legacy Award. Mead was the CBC's curling producer for many years and produced its curling coverage at the 1998 Olympic Winter Games in Nagano, Japan. After she died suddenly in January 2000, the CBC Legacy Award was renamed in her memory and in honour of the great work she had done for curling on behalf of the CBC. The awards began after the CBC was presented with the Golden Rings Award by the International Olympic Association for its excellence in broadcasting curling from the Nagano games. CBC decided to fund an annual award for junior curlers in Canada as an ongoing legacy of the Golden Rings Award and established the CBC Legacy Awards.

Alberta's Karsten Sturmay and Gabby Molloy of N.L. are the winners of the 2016 Joan Mead Legacy Award. The winning curlers are selected by the officials for best exemplifying leadership, excellence and fair play.

KEN WATSON AWARD

The 2016 winners of the Ken Watson Award are P.E.I. third Chloé McCloskey and Nunavut skip Arthur Siksik. The awards are voted on by the players in the Canadian Juniors and presented to the curlers who best combine playing ability with sportsmanship.

P.E.I.'s Chloé McCloskey and Arthur Siksik of Nunavut are the recipients of the 2016 Ken Watson Award. Voted on by the players, the award goes to the curlers who best combine playing ability with sportsmanship.

MARJ MITCHELL AWARD

Saskatchewan third Ashley Howard won the Marj Mitchell Award for best embodying the spirit of curling at the 2016 Scotties Tournament of Hearts. The award is named in memory of Marj Mitchell, who skipped Canada to its first world title in 1980. In 1983, shortly after the second Hearts, Mitchell died of cancer at the age of 35. The winner is selected each year in a vote by all players at the tournament.

Saskatchewan third and Scotties Tournament of Hearts rookie Ashley Howard won the Marj Mitchell Award for best embodying the spirit of curling.

It was a first-team all-star sweep for Team Canada at the 2016 Scotties Tournament of Hearts, with the honours going to skip Jennifer Jones, third Kaitlyn Lawes, second Jill Officer and lead Dawn McEwen.

JOAN MEAD BUILDER AWARD

Presented in the name of Joan Mead, the 2016 Builder Award was presented to Renée Sonnenberg for her significant contribution to the growth and development of women's curling in Canada. Sonnenberg moved to Grand Prairie, Alberta, after graduating from university and became an instant torchbearer and inspiration for female curlers in the Peace District, skipping Alberta champion teams in the 1999 and 2001 Hearts. She started giving back to the game almost immediately, coaching junior curlers in the area, serving as executive director of the Peace Curling Association and playing a leading role with the Peace Curling Tour. Sonnenberg continues to coach at the junior level and is a performance consultant for Curling Canada.

Mario Gosselin, chief operating officer of Kruger Products, presents the Sandra Schmirler Award as the most valuable player in the 2016 Scotties Tournament of Hearts playoffs to Alberta skip Chelsea Carey.

SANDRA SCHMIRLER AWARD

Presented in the name of the late Sandra Schmirler, the Most Valuable Player Award was presented to Alberta skip Chelsea Carey after she was chosen the most outstanding player in the 2016 Scotties Tournament of Hearts playoffs.

The 2016 world junior men's champions: from left, Scotland's Bruce Mouat, Bobby Lammie, Gregor Cannon and Angus Dowell. Leading the United States 4-2 after the fifth-end break, the Scots were in control throughout the game. The four-some, who finished the round robin with a 7-2 record, defeated the U.S. in the Page 1-2 playoff to gain a bye to the final.

The 2016 world champions: from left, Switzerland's Binya Feltscher, Irene Schori, Fränziska Kaufmann and Christine Urech. Feltscher made a perfect draw to the side of the button in the ninth end to count two and go up 7-6 against Japan's Satsuki Fujisawa. Looking to force an extra end, Fujisawa was heavy with her final rock, giving up a steal of two and the win.

Japan's Satsuki Fujisawa led her young team to its first-ever world championship medal. "I am proud that we were able to get to the final and hope we can come back again next year," said the 24-year-old skip.

Switzerland kept its winning streak alive when Binya Feltscher skipped her team to its second world title — they also won in 2014 — and the country's fourth in five years.

Anna Sidorova, Margarita Fomina, Alexandra Raeva and Nkeiruka Ezekh defeated Canada in a 9-8 thriller to give Russia its third consecutive bronze medal.

THE ROAD TO PYEONGCHANG, SOUTH KOREA

The World Curling Federation has 54 member associations, but only 10 are allowed to participate at the medal level of the 2018 Olympic Winter Games in PyeongChang, South Korea. South Korea, as host country, has a berth in both the men's and women's competitions. Seven berths will be assigned on the basis of points accumulated at the 2016 and '17 World Curling Championships. The remaining two berths will be determined at a WCF Olympic qualifying event to be held in December 2017.

Back-to-back playoff losses to Russia's Anna Sidorova — 7-4 in the Page 3-4 game and 9-8 in their bronze-medal encounter — left Canada's Chelsea Carey out of the medals.

FRANCES BRODIE AWARD

Swiss third Irene Schori is the 2016 winner of the Frances Brodie Award. The award winner is selected annually by competitors in the World Women's Curling Championship as the player who best combines playing ability with sportsmanship. The award was named in honour of Scotland's Frances Brodie, one of curling's pioneering women. Brodie helped establish the women's world championship and chaired the first such event in Perth, Scotland, in 1979. The award was presented for the first time in 1989.

Chief umpire Dianne Barker presents the 2016 Frances Brodie sportsmanship award to third Irene Schori of Switzerland. The winner is selected annually by the curlers.

The 2016 Canadian senior women's champions: from left, Nova Scotia's Colleen Jones, Kim Kelly, Mary Sue Radford and Nancy Delahunt. The Bluenosers dominated the final from the start, stealing in the second and third ends to go up 3-0 before Saskatchewan was able to get on the board. The win was sweet redemption for Jones, who lost the final last year.

Ontario front-enders Ken Sullivan, left, and Doug Johnston, right, wait for skip Bryan Cochrane's rock to make its move. Ontario stole its way to a spot in the final with a 6-5 win over British Columbia's Bob Ursel in the semifinal. "That was hard. That was very good curling out there this week," said Cochrane. "We hung in there and the boys played great."

CANADIAN MIXED DOUBLES

NUTANA CURLING CLUB, SASKATOON ▶ MARCH 31 TO APRIL 3, 2016

PHOTOS: DARLENE DANYLW/CURLING CANADA

Sporting their 2016 Canadian mixed doubles hardware are silver medallists Geoff Walker and Laura Crocker, gold medallists Jocelyn Peterman and Brett Gallant, and bronze medallists Marliese Kasner and Dustin Kalthoff. When it was announced that mixed doubles would make its Olympic debut in 2018, many top curlers added the discipline to their repertoire.

After finishing with a 6-1 round-robin record, Jocelyn Peterman and teammate Brett Gallant ran the table to capture the mixed doubles title.

Laura Crocker, centre, calls for teammate Geoff Walker, left, to corner-freeze the top stone to set up a possible deuce in mixed doubles action against Brett Gallant and Jocelyn Peterman. Up by two in the seventh, Crocker's final shot ticked a guard, redirecting and removing both of her own rocks, leaving Peterman a hit for four and a 10-8 lead going into the last end.

THE ROAD TO PYEONGCHANG, SOUTH KOREA

The World Curling Federation has 54 member associations, but only 10 are allowed to participate at the medal level of the 2018 Olympic Winter Games in PyeongChang, South Korea. South Korea, as host country, has a berth in both the men's and women's competitions. Seven berths will be assigned on the basis of points accumulated at the 2016 and '17 World Curling Championships. The remaining two berths will be determined at a WCF Olympic qualifying event to be held in December 2017.

COLIN CAMPBELL MEMORIAL AWARD

Japanese lead Kosuke Morozumi is the winner of the Colin Campbell Memorial Award for the second consecutive year. The award winner is selected annually by competitors in the World Men's Curling Championship as the player who best combines playing ability with sportsmanship. The award was instituted in 1979 to honour the memory of Colin A. Campbell, who served as president of the International Curling Federation (now the World Curling Federation) from 1969 until his death in 1978.

THE ROAD TO PYEONGCHANG, SOUTH KOREA

The World Curling Federation has 54 member associations, but only eight are allowed to participate at the medal level of the mixed doubles competition at the 2018 Olympic Winter Games in PyeongChang, South Korea. South Korea, as host country, has a berth, and the seven remaining berths will be assigned on the basis of points accumulated at the 2016 and '17 World Mixed Doubles Curling Championships.

CANADIAN CURLING HALL OF FAME

Six new members have been inducted into the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame — curlers Ina Forrest and Darryl Neighbour, curler/builders Pierre Charette and Earle Morris, builder Bob Weeks and former Curling Canada chair Hugh Avery.

HUGH AVERY
Executive Honour Roll

Hugh Avery chaired the Curling Canada board of governors in 2013-14 and 2015-16. He was first elected in 2010 after years of service to the sport in his home province of Nova Scotia as a director with the Nova Scotia Curling Association and president of the Halifax Curling Club. He also served as co-chair of the Tim Hortons Brier host committee in 2010, when the event was held in Halifax.

Since being elected to the board, Avery has served as a member of five committees — Governance, CEO Performance and Compensation, Appointments Suggestion, Finance and Audit, and Constitutional Review — and was an international representative to the World Curling Federation.

Avery began to curl at the Westville Curling Club in 1981, when he was in junior high. He has played in men's championships at the provincial level in both Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

PIERRE CHARETTE
Curler/builder

Pierre Charette of Gatineau, Quebec, is one of the most accomplished players in Quebec curling history and has devoted countless hours to building the sport not only in his home province but across the country.

As a player, Charette is a seven-time Quebec champion — in 1989, '93, '96, '97, '98, '99 and 2007 — and won back-to-back silver medals at the '98 and '99 Briers playing vice-skip for Guy Hemmings. He is the only curler to play in the Brier at all four positions, and was named the second-team all-star third in 1998 and first-team all-star third in '99.

In addition to his men's titles, Charette won three Quebec mixed championships — as second in 1986 and as skip in '91 and '92 — and also skipped two provincial senior men's championship teams, in 2010 and '12.

Off the ice, Charette has played an integral role in the development of the Grand Slam of Curling series of events. He is a former president of the World Curling Players' Association and now manages Grand Slam events from coast to coast.

INA FORREST
Curler

A native of Spallumcheen, British Columbia, Ina Forrest is one of the world's most decorated wheelchair curlers.

Since taking up wheelchair curling in 2004, Forrest has won three world wheelchair gold medals and two Paralympic Winter Games gold medals and has been a valued member of Team Canada since 2007.

Forrest attended her eighth consecutive world wheelchair championship last February. She was an alternate for Team Canada in 2007 and has been in the lineup ever since, winning gold in 2009, '11 and '13. She helped Canada claim Paralympic gold in 2010 in Vancouver and in Sochi, Russia, in '14.

EARLE MORRIS
Curler/builder

Ottawa's Earle Morris has devoted his adult life to the sport of curling, having an impact on the game in a number of areas of play, coaching and national performance programming.

His curling career was highlighted by his history-making achievement as the first man to represent three different provinces at the Brier — Manitoba in 1980, Quebec in '82 and Ontario in '85 — a feat now matched by his son, John Morris, and Ryan Fry.

Morris's remarkable coaching career includes mentoring Canadian champions John Morris (juniors in 1998); Rachel Homan (juniors in 2010, Scotties Tournament of Hearts in 2013 and '14); and Pat Simmons (Tim Hortons Brier in 2015). Those teams garnered a world gold medal, two silvers and two bronzes.

Morris spends much of his time working with adults and youth at the recreation level. He has been a major influence on Curling Canada's Adult Learn-to-Curl program, which is changing the look and feel of curling clubs across the country. His concept to replace the traditional one-day clinic with a year-long program, and the creation of a curriculum to teach the trainers in Canadian curling centres, have been game changers for curling.

Morris served as the general manager of the Canadian Curling Association from 1987 to '89.

DARRYL NEIGHBOUR
Curler

Darryl Neighbour of Richmond, British Columbia, proved in the spring of 2015 that age is no barrier in the pursuit of athletic excellence. At 66 — he turned 68 last July — Neighbour added to what had already been a brilliant career by winning his third Canadian Wheelchair Curling Championship. He was the vice-skip for the British Columbia team skipped by Gerry Austgarden.

That title, combined with his stellar success on the world stage with Team Canada, earned Neighbour the call from Curling Canada to join the Canadian Curling Hall of Fame.

Neighbour and Forrest were teammates on the 2010 Paralympic Winter Games gold-medal team, as well as on the 2009 and '11 world championship teams.

Neighbour also represented Canada proudly at the 2008 and '12 World Wheelchair Curling Championships.

BOB WEEKS
Builder

Bob Weeks has spent most of his journalism career chronicling the sport of curling and is one of the most respected and widely read curling journalists on the planet.

In addition to his newspaper and television work, Weeks has written four books about curling — The Brier: A History of Canada's Most Celebrated Curling Championship; Curling For Dummies; Hurry Hard: The Russ Howard Story, which he co-wrote with Howard; and Curling, Etcetera.

He spent more than 25 years as the curling columnist for The Globe and Mail and was editor of the Ontario Curling Report for 30 years.

A Toronto native, Weeks is working as a curling reporter and analyst for TSN.

He has won the Scotty Harper Award for curling journalism three times, twice since it was revived in 2005, and was made an Honorary Life Member of the Ontario Curling Association in 2009.

THE MEMBER ASSOCIATION CUP

Presented by TSN

Curling Canada has created a provincial-territorial ranking system to measure member association performances at all of the national curling championships it operates and sanctions.

The system was implemented in 2010-11 by Curling Canada, which is made up of 14 member associations representing Canada's 10 provinces, Northern Ontario and the territories of Yukon, Northwest Territories and Nunavut.

Member associations are ranked based on their final positions in 10 annual national championships — the men's and women's Travelers Curling Club Championship, the Canadian mixed, Canadian junior men's and women's, Scotties Tournament of Hearts, Tim Hortons Brier, Everest Canadian senior men's and women's and Canadian wheelchair.

The program was created to generate greater interest among curling fans across the country. For years, curling enthusiasts have enjoyed regional rivalries, debating whether their province or territory was better than another. The new system adds legitimacy to a basic ranking system, which tracks how member associations perform.

Under the new system, points totals and results are tracked and updated after each applicable Canadian championship throughout the curling season.

The 2015-16 winners were announced in June at Curling Canada's Annual General Meeting in Cornwall, Ontario. Based on the highest average points, the Member Association Cup, presented by TSN, was awarded to Alberta, with 113 points, an average of 11.3 per event.

Alberta's total was bolstered by three first-place performances — Mick Lizmore's at the mixed, Chelsea Carey's at the Hearts and Kevin Koe's at the Brier.

Nova Scotia — the member association making the biggest year-to-year improvement on an average points basis — received the Governors' Cup for an average increase over the 10 events of 2.425 points year over year.

Quebec's advancement was buoyed by gold-medal performances by Mary Fay at the juniors and Colleen Jones at the seniors.

SCOTTY HARPER AWARD

Terry Jones of the Edmonton Sun is the winner of the 2016 Scotty Harper Award for the year's best curling story.

Jones's story John Morris at Peace with Change Back to Third was chosen as the winner by the faculty of Communication Studies at Mount Royal University in Calgary.

The award is named for the late Scotty Harper, whose curling reports in the Winnipeg Free Press enlivened the paper for many years. Not awarded for a number of years, the award was re-introduced in 2005 with the assistance of Curling Canada.

PAUL McLEAN AWARD

Winnipeg Free Press sports reporter Paul Wiecek is the 2016 winner of the Paul McLean Award.

The award was created in 2007 by the Canadian Curling Reporters, in conjunction with TSN, in memory of McLean, a TSN executive producer, and his dedication to the sport of curling. McLean passed away on December 14, 2005, at his home in Brampton, Ontario, after a two-year battle with cancer. He was 39.

The award is presented annually to a person in the media who has made an outstanding contribution to the sport of curling from behind the scenes.

Born and raised in Winnipeg, Wiecek is a graduate of Carleton University's School of Journalism in Ottawa. In 1989 he joined the Free Press, where he covered the police beat before becoming an investigative reporter in 1996. He moved into sports in 1998 and has worked there ever since.

A Season of Champions veteran, Wiecek has covered dozens of Tournament of Hearts, Briers and world championships, as well as Olympic Winter Games, World Series, Grey Cups, NBA championships and thoroughbred racing.

He's a two-time winner of the Scotty Harper Award, awarded annually for the year's best curling story.

Home team looking for five straight at 2017 WORLD FINANCIAL GROUP CONTINENTAL CUP

Already qualified for Team North America are the reigning Canadian champions — Chelsea Carey, Amy Nixon, Jocelyn Peterman and Laine Peters, who prevailed at the 2016 Hearts, and Kevin Koe, Marc Kennedy, Brent Laing and Ben Hebert, who won the 2016 Brier. They will be joined by two U.S. entries and the winners of the 2016 Canada Cup.

Close or lopsided — it doesn't matter. Team World is simply tired of losing at the World Financial Group Continental Cup.

The overseas contingent will be looking to snap a four-year losing streak against Team North America when the 2017 edition of curling's version of the Ryder Cup is contested January 12 to 15 in the Entertainment Capital of the World, Las Vegas.

Two years ago in Calgary, the end result was never really in doubt and the home team cruised to an easy victory.

Last year at Orleans Arena in Las Vegas, just one point separated the teams in the end — a historically tight finish — but it was still Team North America hoisting the trophy and Team World looking on in disappointment.

So with a return to Vegas in the offing, Team World must have the feeling that enough is enough.

"We really can't wait to get back to Las Vegas and show the fans what we're capable of," said Sweden's veteran skip Niklas Edin, who'll be making his ninth Continental Cup appearance.

"We have a ton of respect for the North American teams, obviously, and they've been deserving of their success. But we also know that the World teams, when we're on top of our game, can be just as good. I know all six of our teams coming to Las Vegas are excited because it's such a great show, but also we are extremely hungry and focused on winning that trophy."

The four-day competition features three unique styles of curling competition — traditional team, skins and mixed doubles. Each segment awards points for wins or ties. A total of 60 points is available, so the side that earns more than 30 points will be declared the champion.

Team World's lineup was confirmed during the summer, with coach Pål Trulsen of Norway and captain Andy Kapp of Germany (also last year's Team World brain trust) bringing four of last season's six world championship podium teams to Las Vegas in a bid to take the trophy off of North American soil for the first time since 2012 in Langley, British Columbia.

All three medal-winning teams from the 2016 Ford World Women's Curling Championship last spring in Swift Current, Saskatchewan, will be in Las Vegas, led by two-time world champ Binia Feltscher of Switzerland, who won her second gold medal in Swift Current, beating Japan's Satsuki Fujisawa in the championship game. Russia's Anna Sidorova, the bronze medalist in Swift Current, will round out the Team World women's contingent.

On the men's side, Edin, the 2015 world champ, is joined by 2014 world champ Thomas Ulsrud of Norway, who is preparing for his eighth trip to the event. On the other hand, Denmark's Rasmus Stjerne, who won silver at the 2016 World Men's Curling Championship last April in Basel, Switzerland, after losing to Kevin Koe's Canadian team in the final, will be making his Continental Cup debut.

Their Team North America opponents won't be completely known until December. Already qualified for Team North America are the reigning Canadian champions — Calgary's Koe, who won the 2016 Tim Hortons Brier in addition to the world men's title, and fellow Calgarian Chelsea Carey, whose team prevailed at the 2016 Scotties Tournament of Hearts.

"We've been extremely fortunate over the past four years because that World team always has a lot of talent, but we've been able to rise to the occasion," said Koe, whose team was a member of last season's victorious Team North America squad.

"We see those teams throughout the season, and we know how much this event means to them, and we also know that we'll have to be at the absolute top of our games if we want to make it five in a row."

Rick Lang is back as Team North America coach, and he'll be joined by three-time world championship medallist Debbie McCormick of Rio, Wisconsin, as captain.

The other two Canadian teams will be the men's and women's champions of the 2016 Home Hardware Canada Cup, which takes place November 30 to December 4 in Brandon, Manitoba.

The two U.S. entries will be decided based on World Curling Tour results through November 22.

"I know our teams will be ready to play in Las Vegas, and they'll have to be because Team World is tired of losing, and they'll be extremely eager to end that streak," said Lang. "I'm thrilled to be working with Debbie, and we'll be trying our best to keep the Cup here in North America."

The previous two Las Vegas editions of the World Financial Group Continental Cup — in 2014 and '16 — each broke event records for attendance, and the 2016 renewal also set the standard for the best-attended curling event on U.S. soil.

Projections for the 2017 event indicate more attendance records could be attainable.

COMBINING EDUCATION AND

have been furthered for 10 deserving young curlers who are winners of the 2016 Curling Canada Foundation For The Love of Curling scholarships.

The $1,000 scholarships — funded by donations from curling fans and supporters of the Curling Canada Foundation — were introduced to help university or college students cover a portion of their education and curling costs during the 2016-17 school year.

“Picking these 10 winners was both difficult and gratifying at the same time,” said Kathy Henderson, Curling Canada’s chief executive officer and a member of the selection committee. “There was an abundance of deep and diverse talent — student athletes who excel not only on the ice and in the classroom but also in their respective communities.

“Not that I had any doubt, but this process re-affirmed my belief that we have an amazing next generation of curlers coming up in our country.”

Nearly 50 applications were received from across the country.

The 2016-17 scholarship winners are:

Maxime Blais, Smooth Rock Falls, Ontario (University of Ottawa)

Karlee Burgess, Brookfield, Nova Scotia (Dalhousie University)

Kristin Clarke, Hammonds Plains, Nova Scotia (Dalhousie University)

Megan Daniels, Delta, British Columbia (Simon Fraser University)

Krista Fesser, Saskatoon (University of Saskatchewan)

Jessica Humphries, Bobcaygeon, Ontario (Brock University)

Sterling Middleton, Fort St. John, British Columbia (Douglas College)

Tyler Tardi, Surrey, British Columbia (Kwantlen Polytechnic University)

Daniel Wenzek, Burnaby, British Columbia (Douglas College)

The scholarship winners were selected by a panel whose members looked at both academic and curling achievements, including a commitment to building the sport through coaching/instructing and/or volunteer activities. In order to qualify, applicants had to be enrolled full-time for at least two semesters at a Canadian university or college, in addition to being registered to compete for Canadian Team Ranking System points during the 2016-17 curling season.

"The quality of these applications never ceases to amaze me, and it was truly challenging to narrow it down to 10 winners," said selection panel member Emma Miskew, vice-skip for Team Rachel Homan. "But it really is an enjoyable process, and it's so gratifying to see what these young curlers are contributing to our sport and to our communities across Canada."

The Curling Canada Foundation philanthropic program was introduced during the 2013-14 season to help junior curling and to support curling centres in Canada. Last season, donors invested almost $400,000 in the sport of curling through Curling Canada's Rocks & Rings programs, scholarships and grants to curling clubs.

New format, new event

2016 National

Curling Canada has a new format for its national men's and women's championships, as well as a brand new national championship.

The moves came out of Curling Canada's annual general meeting in Cornwall, Ontario, in June, the concluding event of the 2016 National Curling Congress.

For the 2017-18 season, the Tim Hortons Brier and Scotties Tournament of Hearts will expand to 16 teams each, including the champions of Curling Canada's 14 member associations, the defending Team Canada champions as well as the top-ranked non-qualified teams on the Canadian Team Ranking System once each provincial/territorial playdown is completed.

The format, a pilot approved in concept at the 2015 Curling Canada AGM, takes advantage of the fact that the 2018 championships will have little or no bearing on the qualifying process for the 2022 Olympic Winter Games.

The teams will be split into two pools of eight, with the top four teams from each pool advancing to a championship pool that will determine the final four playoff teams. The format allows the Brier and Hearts to stick to the traditional nine-day format, while removing the pre-qualifying round to satisfy the desire of the member associations that all 14 teams have direct entry into the main portion of the championships.

In addition, Curling Canada and its member associations

Curling Canada's 2016 National Curling Congress

introduced at Curling Congress approved the introduction of a new Canadian under-18 boys and girls curling championship.

The event will make its debut in the spring of 2017 and will complement the existing under-21 Canadian Junior Men's and Women's Curling Championships, which take place in January 2017 in Esquimalt, British Columbia.

Curling Canada welcomed two new members to its board of governors — John Shea of Ottawa and Angela Hodgson of Charlottetown. They replace outgoing governors Hugh Avery of Halifax, who was the board chair, and Cindy Maddock of Morde, Manitoba.

Peter Inch of London, Ontario, was elected board chair for the 2016-17 season, and Resby Coutts of Winnipeg was elected vice-chair.

Avery was presented with the Board of Governors Special Recognition Award, the first time the award has been presented since 2008.

The National Curling Congress concluded with the awarding of the MA Cup and the Governor's Cup.

The MA Cup, presented by TSN, went to Alberta — for the second time in three years — as the member association with the best average finish at each of the 10 Curling Canada national championships. The Governor's Cup was awarded to Nova Scotia as the member association with the best average improvement from the previous season.

CURLING CANADA ADOPTS CONCUSSION POLICY

Curling Canada has announced a concussion/return-to-play policy for athletes participating in events operated by Curling Canada.

Adopted at the National Curling Congress, the policy states that when an athlete falls during a game and a head injury is suspected, the athlete will be required to be examined by a physician and undergo tests to determine whether a concussion has occurred.

If no concussion is diagnosed, the athlete can return to the game. Otherwise, the athlete will be required to undergo and pass a five-step testing process, each requiring a minimum of 24 hours, before being cleared to return to play by a doctor.

While the return-to-play protocol applies only to Curling Canada events, the national governing body is recommending that the guidelines covering head injuries and protection be adopted by provincial and territorial sport organizations as well as curling centres.

The guidelines also cover such aspects as warm-ups that focus on stretching, strengthening and improving balance, using proper equipment and making sure procedures are in place to deal with suspected head injuries.

The guidelines also include a helmet policy that strongly recommends the use of protective headgear, as well as grippers on both shoes — excluding the player delivering the stone — for curlers 12 years of age and under (unless they have two years of on-ice training), casual curlers (not in leagues) and curlers 65 and over.
